Welcome

While racing has its trying times, Old Friends founder Michael Blowen recalls why he loves the sport so much – it's because of the horses. Page 2

Central Casting

Blowen, a former movie critic for the Boston Globe, says the farm's horses remind him of movie stars. Page 4

Three generations

With the arrival of Classy Charm, Old Friends has hosted three generations of Silver Charm's lineage. Page 10

Boys of summer

Old Friends has been graced with the arrival of three very tough runners – Diversify, Hogy, and Soi Phet. Page 16

Kings of New York

New York-breds King Kreesa, Kharafa, and Lubash met numerous times on the track, and now they're all together again in Kentucky. Page 18

Welcome

By Michael Blowen

It's the day after Code of Honor's hard-earned, doggedly determined victory in the Travers Stakes on a spectacularly sunny August day at Saratoga. In a year that has, for better and worse, shined the spotlight on horse racing's longtime avoidance of horse safety and aftercare, the race was a reminder of why, in spite of the difficulties, I still love horse racing.

I like going to The Red Mile and the Thoroughbred Club in Lexington to bet the simulcasts and meet my friends. I love perusing the past performances and trying, desperately, to find an athlete sitting on a great performance. And I shouldn't have to apologize for it.

The Thoroughbred Aftercare Alliance (TAA) has led the way in raising awareness and funds to support many accredited horse retirement and retraining organizations and, along with Thoroughbred Charities of America, have pointed the way for a brighter future for these athletes whose value does not disappear the moment they cross the finish line for the last time.

I appreciate all that retraining organizations do to promote the versatility and viability of Thoroughbreds beyond their racing days, whether it's putting in a dazzling performance at one of the great Retired Racehorse Project shows, working with veterans with PTSD, or inmates taking care of the retirees in the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation's admirable prison program.

At Old Friends, horses finally return to being themselves. We are not their bosses. We are their caretakers. We feed them and take care of their health requirements. Antonio and Carole and Tim and Tammy and James and Bill, everyone working with the horses spends every moment meeting the needs of our retirees. And the same can be said for everyone in the office and all of our loyal fans and visitors. The horses don't need us to tell them what to do. And we didn't rescue them. They rescued us.

This morning, at sunrise, I got to see Hogy's tail brushing the flies from Soi Phet's face, and Green Mask, in an adjoining paddock, prancing around on his reconstructed left foreleg, Little Mike trying to catch up with Game On Dude, and Einstein proudly bellowing to John Bradley. Even my old horse, Summer Attraction, whom I claimed at Finger Lakes in New York for $3,500 in 1999, is sucking up to Slamming, his old mate from Lorita Lindemann's barn at Suffolk. They finally get to be horses again.

I'll never know what it's like to own a colt who wins the Kentucky Derby, but I can't imagine it's a bigger thrill than experiencing what I experience every day. Just watching all of our old friends being themselves.

Casting call

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Michael Blowen (with bucket) visits Silver Charm – the Cary Grant of Old Friends – with a group of admiring fans.

By Michael Blowen

In the mid-80s, when I was covering movies for The Boston Globe, I was friends with (name-dropping alert) Jack Nicholson. One night, we went to a Los Angeles Lakers-Portland Trail Blazers basketball game at the Forum, just a stone's throw from Hollywood Park racetrack. About a minute before the final buzzer, Jack told me to follow him to the player's entrance and don't stop. Then, he started running. His fans fell upon him. They all looked like what they were – fan(atics). It was crazy. Scary. I never really felt that thrill when meeting the movie stars (with a few notable exceptions), but I always felt that way around Thoroughbreds.

Flash forward to the first time I stepped foot in Kentucky and set eyes on Forego and Bold Forbes at the Kentucky Horse Park, and I knew how Jack's fans felt. And, ever since then, I've thought of these great athletes as invaluable celebrities. And, after so many years of Old Friends, that feeling has never diminished. In fact, it still grows and grows more and more every day.

Over the years, I began to think of our Thoroughbred stars as counterparts to the movie stars. It soon became clear that, in this cerebral cinema where images of Thoroughbred stars were projected in my imagination, particular horses exhibited characteristics emblematic of certain human stars.

Take a look at our Old Friends casting call.

AFTERNOON DEELITES

Alter ego: Anthony Hopkins

Role play: Because they share a mutual affection for fava beans, Anthony Hopkins would be perfect as Afternoon Deelites. And, our millionaire multiple stakes winner is prone to eating too much and must wear a muzzle when he's outside, making him a dead ringer for Hannibal Lecter.

ALPHABET SOUP

Alter ego: Sir Alec Guinness

Role play: At first, Sir Alec Guinness would seem an unlikely match with our great son of Cozzene. But, years ago, over afternoon tea, he confided that he owed his comfortable retirement to the salary he was paid to play Obi Wan Kenobi. In fact, he received more money from the Star Wars franchise than all his other roles combined. Of course, Alphabet Soup did the same with his stunning victory in the 1996 Breeders' Cup Classic over Cigar.

ARSON SQUAD and RAIL TRIP

Alter ego: Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin

Role play: Two of owner Samantha Siegel's stakes winners have a lot of talent, love a good time, and adored their lives near the beach in sunny California. Good-looking, talented, and entertaining, they can do anything ... act, sing, and dance, just like their artistic counterparts, Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin. Pass the smoking jackets and the single malt.

AWESOME GEM

Alter ego: Tom Hanks

Role play: Awesome Gem brings Tom Hanks to mind. This gorgeous chestnut doesn't have a mean bone in his body and he could run faster than Forrest Gump. And, like Hanks, he's a lovable crowd-pleaser who thinks big.

BINT MARSCAY

Alter ego: Nicole Kidman

Role play: Elegant. Long-legged. Australian. Award winner. Who else but Bint Marscay and Nicole Kidman. Also, moody. When Laura Battles wasn't around to serve her every need, Bint Marscay could be boorish. However, as long as she got her own way, everything was fine. Enough said.

BLACK TIE AFFAIR

Alter ego: Fred Astaire

Role play: Black Tie Affair glided around the racetrack as if he were doing The Continental. Breezy, confident, and as classy as Astaire. And Fred loved horse racing. He even married Robyn Smith, a jockey. Come to think of it, as they both aged, Astaire and Black Tie Affair even developed some physical similarities. And, although their famous legs and feet eventually deserted them both, they retained their elegant personae.

CHARISMATIC

Alter ego: Jack Nicholson

Role play: Many years ago, while leaving a Lakers game with Jack Nicholson, the crowd swept down on him as if the Red Sea was collapsing. No matter what role he played, Jack had charisma. Hence, Charismatic. They both came from humble beginnings and rose to the top of their professions. And Jack used to sneak into Monmouth Park when he was a kid to bet the races. Both he and Charismatic are mortal locks.

CREATOR

Alter ego: Marcello Mastroianni

Role play: Our Creator was born in Europe, a son of the great Mill Reef, and won his big races in France. Marcello Mastroianni was Italian but, in every other way, his cosmopolitan demeanor, classic good looks, and international appeal mirrors our beloved Creator. And he was adored by all females ... especially my wife, Diane.

GAME ON DUDE and LITTLE MIKE

Alter ego: Paul Newman and Robert Redford

Role play: What a pair. Handsome multimillionaires with overwhelming talent and a fan base that stretched from sea to shining sea. Dude and Mike. Redford and Newman. Whether it's "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" or "The Sting" (which involved bookies and horse racing shenanigans), the human pair carried themselves with confidence and class, just like Mike and The Dude.

GENUINE REWARD

Alter ego: Drew Barrymore

Role play: As the son of the great Kentucky Derby-winning filly Genuine Risk, Genuine Reward was always best known because of his family. The same could be said of Drew Barrymore, who descended from the other Barrymores – John, Lionel, and Ethel.

GREEN MASK

Alter ego: Johnny Depp

Role play: Another Kentucky-bred, Johnny Depp reminds me of Green Mask. He's had bouts with physical problems, yet still keeps bouncing back. His performance as the ever-optimistic Ed Wood, is superb. Like Green Mask, he not only endured but triumphed.

GULCH

Alter ego: Edward G. Robinson

Role play: Feisty. Tough. Confident. Dogged. Smart. That's Gulch and none other but the greatest of all tough guys who was short in stature but had talent as tall as a skyscraper – Edward G. Robinson. While Robinson's reputation rests in gangster movies, one of his greatest roles was as Keys, the resolute insurance investigator in "Double Indemnity." Like Gulch, he never gave up. And he seldom lost.

HIDDEN LAKE

Alter ego: Meryl Streep

Role play: Years ago, when "Kramer vs. Kramer" was released, Meryl Streep was trying to explain why she was selected for such a challenging role as a mother who left her son and a wife who left her husband. All she wanted to talk about was all the other actresses who could have done a better job. Her modesty wasn't false. The same could be said for the great Grande Dame of Old Friends, our Eclipse Award winner

Hidden Lake. Like Streep, she let her actions speak for themselves.

JIMBO FALLON

Alter ego: Jimmy Fallon

Role play: Who better to team up with Jimbo Fallon than his namesake, “Tonight Show” host, Jimmy Fallon? In fact, when Jimbo won a race, Jimmy featured it in his monologue and it’s still available on YouTube. Like Jimmy, Jimbo shows up every day but he really gets excited when Jill Baffert, his favorite, comes for a visit.

EINSTEIN

Alter ego: Albert Brooks

Role play: This might seem like a stretch. But Albert’s father, Mr. Einstein, who performed under the stage name Parkyakarkus, proved he could take his humor to extremes and named his son, Albert. It doesn’t take a genius to appreciate either Einstein.

FORTUNATE PROSPECT

Alter ego: Harry Dean Stanton

Role play: Fortunate Prospect was the Harry Dean Stanton of Old Friends. He was always a supporting character on the farm, overshadowed by the likes of Gulch and Silver Charm. But that didn’t diminish his unique artistry. You don’t have to be a star to be a great movie actor. And both Fortunate and Harry Dean proved it over and over again through long and distinguished careers.

KHARAFKA, KING KREESA, and LUBASH

Alter ego: The Three Stooges

Role play: While none of the esteemed members of this trio was a multiple Grade 1 winner, they formed a firm foundation of dependable, show-up-on-time, never disappoint racehorses. Like Warren Oates, Harry Dean Stanton, and Steve Zahn. Their professionalism and talent brought an extra dimension to every performance.

LITTLE SILVER CHARM

Alter ego: Mickey Rooney

Role play: Little Silver Charm believes that if Ava Gardner, the statuesque, raven-haired beauty, could marry the diminutive Mickey Rooney, then he might have a chance to engage the love of his life, Zenyatta. Besides, Little Silver Charm thought Mickey Rooney was great in “Thoroughbreds Don’t Cry” and “The Black Stallion.”

OGYGIAN

Alter ego: Sir Laurence Olivier

Role play: Both Sir Laurence and Sir Ogygian could play any part with dignity, grace, talent, and artistry. While Olivier’s career lasted longer, Ogygian made up for his shortened racing life by giving his all, all the time. And they both got great reviews. When Ogygian returned from Japan, the great racing critic Russ Harris opined, “I saw Secretariat and Seattle Slew and Affirmed and Alydar and every Triple Crown race since 1961 and, you sir, have the greatest racehorse I ever laid eyes on.” Olivier should be so lucky.

POPCORN DEELITES and SPECIAL RING

Alter egos: Gene Siskel and Roger Ebert

Role play: These two are the Siskel and Ebert of the farm. They’re very opinionated and know that, each in his own way, is absolutely right every single time. The one major difference is that Popcorn Deelites (who resents that neither Gene nor Roger mentioned his sterling performance in the title role in “Seabiscuit”) and Special Ring really get along.

PRECISIONIST

Alter ego: Peter O’Toole

Role play: Handsome, brilliant, transcendent. That’s Peter O’Toole in “Lawrence of Arabia” and Precisionist at Santa Anita. Whether the sun was reflected off Preci-sionist's coppery coat in the early Santa Anita dawn or burning O'Toole's stunning blue eyes in the Sahara, they were always up for the task at hand. Stars all the way.

RUHLMANN

Alter ego: James Cagney

Role play: Ruhlmann was a hard-driving dancer with a hoodlum's edge. Just like Cagney. Both started small and ended up at the top of the world. While both had a tough exterior, they could also display inner sensitivity. As time went on, they both mellowed out. Cagney became a painter from his home on Martha's Vineyard and Ruhlmann practiced his art at Old Friends.

SARAVA

Alter ego: Roberto Benigni

Role play: Sarava was a one-hit wonder when he won the Belmont Stakes over our Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner War Emblem in 2002. (He paid $142.50 to win.) A few years earlier, in 1999, Roberto Benigni climbed over rows of chairs to accept his Oscar for Best Actor for "Life is Beautiful." And he beat a good field that included Tom Hanks, Ian McKellen, and Nick Nolte. Talk about a pair of longshots.

SAUDI POETRY

Alter ego: Angie Dickinson

Role play: While they both have great legs (movie studio MGM insured Angie's for $1 million), they have more in common than physical beauty. Like Angie punching Lee Marvin in Point Blank or standing toe-to-toe with Ronald Reagan in The Killers, neither of these dames put up with any nonsense from their male counterparts.

SILVER CHARM

Alter ego: Cary Grant

Role play: Who else but Cary Grant? Perfect in every role. Erudite. Proud. Confident. Whether speeding around Monaco with Grace Kelly in "It Takes a Thief," seducing Eva Marie Saint in "North by Northwest" (or was it the other way around?), or going for laughs in "His Girl Friday," Grant never let the sweat show. And neither did Silver Charm. A career like no other.

TOUCH GOLD

Alter ego: George Clooney

Role play: George Clooney, a Kentucky-bred, can do it all. Act. Produce. Direct. And so could Touch Gold. Even at 25, Touch Gold still runs like the wind. Neck curved. Hooves flashing. Eyes staring. Yes, even after all these years, he and George can still rise to the occasion and send chills through an audience.

WAR EMBLEM

Alter ego: Marlon Brando

Role play: Both War Emblem and Brando hit their biggest strides on the biggest stages. Broadway. Hollywood. Kentucky Derby. Preakness. And they both played the temperamental star bit to the hilt. In fact, if War Emblem had a choice, I'm sure he would have shunned the winner's circle just like Brando turning down the Oscar for a role they both could have played, The Godfather.

ZIPPY CHIPPY

Alter ego: Rodney Dangerfield

Role play: This is real typecasting because Zippy was a loser who got no respect. Rodney was a loser who got no respect. Eventually, they both became big winners who everyone respects.

Plenty of Charm in this family

By Rick Capone

Since its founding by Michael Blowen in 2003, Old Friends has been home to more than 330 Thoroughbreds.

With that many horses, you would expect that some of them might be related. And, you would be right.

Over the years, there have been a number of two-generation families at the farm, including Charismatic, the 1999 Kentucky Derby and Preakness Stakes winner and Horse of the Year, and his son I'm Charismatic, a hard-knocking workhorse who won 10 of 92 starts. There's also multiple graded stakes winner Afternoon Deelites and his son Popcorn Deelites, who became a movie star in 2002, when he was one of horses that played Seabiscuit in the movie based on the national bestselling book by Laura Hillenbrand. And there's been Black Tie Affair, 1991 Horse of the Year, and his daughter Black Tie Countess, who won three of 49 starts, among the two-generation ties.

Recently, the farm went one better. When Classy Charm arrived at Old Friends in the spring of 2019, she represented three generations of the equine family. Classy Charm was sired by Old Friends retiree Silver Charm, the 1997 Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner, whose dam, Bonnie's Poker, was one of the first mares at Old Friends, which started as a refuge for retired stallions.

The matriarch, Bonnie's Poker

As autumn settles over the cemetery at Old Friends, the trees are displaying their brilliant yellow, red, and orange colors. A light wind blows the leaves along the ground past the graves of past champion stallions and lovable geldings, before settling down next to a green plaque that lies under a small tree where some of the farm's mares are buried.

One plaque marks the grave of Bonnie's Poker, a sweet but tough old girl. Upon her arrival, there was no doubt that Bonnie ruled the mares' paddock, which would include mares like Narrow Escape, Cozy Miss, and champion Hidden Lake.

Foaled in Kentucky on March 30, 1982, Bonnie's Poker was by Poker out of What a Surprise, by Wide Margin. While she did not win any stakes races, she was sound, making 63 starts, and tried hard every time, finishing her career with 11 wins, 9 seconds, 10 thirds, and $153,960 in earnings.

Her most impressive accomplishment came in March of 1986, when her toughness was on full display, winning three races in nine days, all at Aqueduct in New York. The first win came on March 13, followed by another win four days later on March 17. Then, just five days after that, on March 22, she won for the third time.

"Bonnie was just tough," Blown said. "I mean, she [won those] races in the middle of winter at Aqueduct. She didn't have that much talent, but she raced every race, and she tried really hard."

After she was retired, Bonnie's Poker headed to the breeding shed and would produce 11 foals, 10 starters, and six winners, including an all-time great in Silver Charm, her fifth foal and only stakes winner.

She produced her last foal in 2002, and in 2004 almost died due to complications while foaling a Fusaichi Pegasus colt. Her owner, Kris Jakeman, wanted to retire her to Old Friends at that point, but Bonnie's Poker became part of a bankruptcy case and the bank wanted $25,000 for her. Jakeman fought hard for her, writing letters and begging the court to allow the mare to retire.

"They actually went to court, and the judge finally ruled in Kris's favor and that's how we ended up getting Bonnie's Poker," said Blown, who wanted the mare at the farm because Silver Charm had been his favorite racehorse. Getting his dam was the next best thing, since Silver Charm at that time was heading off to stud in Japan, being sold by Kentucky interests after standing in the U.S.

In November 2004, Bonnie's Poker arrived at Old Friends, where she enjoyed a peaceful retirement until she died on Aug. 5, 2010.

In her obituary on the Old Friends website, Blown wrote eloquently about Bonnie's Poker and how she lived her life:

"I don't presume to know if a horse's life flashes before their eyes in the moment of death, but I do know that their lives flash before mine.

"This afternoon, as Bonnie's Poker spent her last breath feeling the pain drift from her 28-year old body, I remembered the first afternoon in 2004 when I saw her in an enormous field at Nicole Hammond's December Farm in Midway. Bonnie's owner, Kris Jakeman, who nursed Bonnie back after she almost died foaling a Fusaichi Pegasus colt, led me into the pasture. Bonnie wanted nothing to do with either of us.

"She was a tough, old gal. If an actress, she would have played one of Cagney's molls ... no nonsense, tough as nails. She wasn't pretty. But her self-confidence and strong will made her who she was. ...

"It's never easy when they go. At least, for us. But, as she gently fell for the last time, she did it without a whimper ... dying as she lived."

Second generation, Silver Charm

It was during her breeding career that Bonnie's Poker gave the sport a great gift when, on Feb. 2, 1994, she produced a gray colt who would be named Silver Charm.

Sired by Silver Buck, Florida-bred Silver Charm set the racing world on fire in 1997, when he came close to winning the Triple Crown under the tutelage of trainer Bob Baffert. After winning the Kentucky Derby and Preakness by a head in both races, he fell just short of winning the Belmont Stakes when Touch Gold – who also resides at Old Friends – passed him at the wire to win by three-quarters of a length to deny him the Triple Crown. For his efforts that year, Silver Charm was named champion 3-year-old male.

Silver Charm returned to the track in 1998 and won three more graded stakes, including the Dubai World Cup, the richest race in the world. In 1999, he won another graded stakes, but by the summer of 1999, he was retired. He finished with a record of 12 wins in 24 starts and earnings of $6,944,369.

While Silver Charm's racing career was over, he received one last award when, in 2007, he was inducted into the Racing Hall of Fame in Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

Silver Charm began his stud career at Three Chimneys Farm in Midway, Ky., and was then sent to Japanese Blood-horse Breeders' Association Stallion Station in Japan starting with the 2005 breeding season. He stood there until pensioned.

Back in the U.S. in the autumn of 2014, Blown got a call he had dreamed about for years.

"Some time after Bonnie died, I got a call from [stallion manager] Sandy Hatfield over at Three Chimneys, who asked me if I wanted a gray stallion at my farm," Blown said. "I totally freaked out because I knew who she meant, and that, of course, was Silver Charm."

Bonnie's Poker lived at Old Friends from November of 2004 until her death in August of 2010.

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

On Dec. 1, 2014, with about 200 people in attendance on a cold, dreary winter afternoon, the day became much brighter when Silver Charm, led by Hatfield, stepped off a horse van and onto the grounds of Old Friends.

Since then, the now-almost-all-white stallion greets visitors to the farm each day, usually making a grand appearance as he runs from the far end of his paddock to his fence to say hello and to get carrots.

It's the peaceful, early morning hours Blowen enjoys the most, because that's when he visits the Silver Charm and feeds him some carrots while they enjoy some time together.

When asked to describe what Silver Charm means to him, Blowen finds it easy to explain his favorite horse.

"What can you say about him that hasn't been said already," he begins, "Silver Charm is perfect in every way. He's just got all the class. He is just cool. Nothing bothers him ever. ... He's got a great demeanor. He had great heart. He certainly inherited his mother's tenacity. He hung with those horses [in races], he never gave up, he never stopped in a race, he always gave his best, and he is really, really intelligent.”

Third generation, Classy Charm

With two generations of Bonnie’s Poker and Silver Charm on the farm, it came as a pleasant gift when a third generation of the family arrived at Old Friends in the spring of 2019.

“We got a call from Maureen Merkler from Clifton Farm in Stamping Ground, Kentucky,” related Blowen, “and she said, ‘I have an 18-year old daughter of Silver Charm. Do you want her? Her name is Classy Charm.’ And I thought, that would be perfect.”

Foaled in Kentucky in 2002, Classy Charm is by Silver Charm out of Classy Cara, by General Meeting.

Classy Charm had a good racing career, being a multiple stakes winner, finishing with five wins and earnings of $295,551 in 25 starts. She won three stakes at Belmont Park: the Colonial Minstrel Stakes in 2005, and the A Wild Ride Stakes and Missy’s Mirage Stakes in 2006. She also placed in four stakes, including a third-place finish in the Grade 2 Rampart Handicap at Gulfstream Park.

Her breeding career was not very successful, though she did produce one good horse, Another Gear, by Lemon Drop Kid, who won nine times and earned $155,262. When she couldn’t get in foal anymore, she was retired.

Classy Charm arrived at Old Friends on May 27, 2019, and now shares a paddock with Saudi Poetry, another recent retiree who came to the farm thanks to her former trainer, Jeff Morris, and his friend Laura Hillenbrand.

“Classy Charm has teamed up really well with Saudi Poetry,” Blowen said. “She seems very intelligent. She didn’t go out in the field and jump around or do anything crazy. When she first arrived, she kind of looked around, and [she seemed to say], ‘Okay, this is it.’ So, I think, she might have inherited her father’s disposition, but not his talent.

“She’s the boss of that paddock, too. They get along very well. But, if you bring a carrot out, she’s going to be the first one there.”

It seems appropriate that the first three-generation family at Old Friends would include Silver Charm, since he is Blowen’s favorite horse. But, it really shouldn’t be that big a surprise because that’s just the Old Friends karma at work.

The boys of summer

By Cynthia Grisolia

These were not weekend warriors. These were 24/7, 365-day-a-year dog-fighters. Equines at arms. And, as luck would have it, they arrived at our barn door in a span of a little more than 30 days.

It all began June 14, when Hogy, a nine-time stakes winner and millionaire, arrived from his temporary station at Upson Downs Farm in Goshen, Ky., where he went to wind down after making his final start, in the $75,000 Colonel Power Stakes at Fair Grounds in February. He finished fifth that day, ending a nine-season racing career.

Hogy, a son of Grade 1 winner Offlee Wild out of the Petionville mare Floy, had seen it all on the racetrack. Launching his career as a 2-year-old with a runaway victory at Arlington Park, he won four of his first five starts, culminating with a triumph in the Hansel Stakes at Turfway Park in the first start of his sophomore season. Between his first start and his last start, Hogy competed at 17 tracks, spanning the country from Del

Mar to Saratoga, ran on synthetic and dirt, and excelled on the turf. Among his other notable wins were the Grade 3 Kentucky Downs Turf Sprint Stakes – in which he defeated Group 1 winner Undrafted – and the Grade 3 Canadian Turf Stakes at Gulfstream Park in Florida.

In 2017, Hogy set a course record for 5 1/2 furlongs on turf in his first time running in the Colonel Power, while defeating another future Old Friends retiree, Green Mask.

Surviving multiple claims, Hogy called it quits at age 10 in 2019 while under the auspices of trainer Mike Maker and owner Michael Hui. He finished his career having completed 55 starts, winning 19 of them, and being on the board another 20 times. His pocketbook held more than $1.3 million. (Bonus: He's drop-dead cute.)

Just two weeks later, a bona fide Big Apple hero – Diversify – walked off the van. The strapping bay son of Wood Memorial winner Bellamy Road had suffered a career-ending suspensory injury earlier in the year, forcing his retirement at the age of 6.

While his résumé is not as, well, diverse, as Hogy's, Diversify can boast a few more significant bullet points, among them winning the 2017 Grade 1 Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Park, the 2017 Grade 1 Clark Handicap at Churchill

Downs, the 2018 Grade 1 Whitney Handicap – besting superstar Mind Your Biscuits – as well earning 2018 New York-bred horse of the year and champion older dirt male honors. Add in a few more wins and a few more stakes at New York's triumvirate of major tracks (Belmont, Saratoga, and Aqueduct) and owners Ralph M. Evans and his daughter Lauren had an East Coast icon on their hands.

Diversify was trained by Rick Violette Jr. But when Violette lost his battle with cancer in the fall of 2018, Diversify was sent to the barn of Jonathan Thomas. Diversify was injured not long after, and the decision was made to retire the champ, who had already given his all. He finished his career with 16 starts, 10 wins, and earnings of more than $1.9 million

July (and H.E. Tex Sutton Forwarding Co.) brought our final avenger from the opposite coast. Bred and raced in California, Soi Phet was a formidable force in the Golden State for eight seasons, from 2012 to 2019, winning eight stakes and running third in the Grade 1 Awesome Again Stakes. The dark bay son of Tizbud even set a record of a different sort in 2018, becoming the oldest stakes winner in the history of Santa Anita when he won the Crystal Water Stakes at age 10.

Like Hogy, Soi Phet benefited from a top-notch claim in 2013, when conditioner Leonard Powell claimed the horse at Hollywood Park for $16,000 – for the ownership team of the Benowitz Family Trust, Mathilde Powell, and Paul A. Viskovich – and set off on a four-race win streak. In all, Soi Phet had 15 trips to the winner's circle from his 64 lifetime starts and earned more than $1 million.

In June 2019, at age 11, Soi Phet bid a fond farewell to the track, making his final start in the Bertrando Stakes at Los Alamitos, a race he'd captured twice before. His connections had already made the decision to retire him, and he seemed to know it as he cantered across the finish line in sixth place.

These boys of summer are now poised for a new job, one less taxing on the legs, a bit less glamorous, but filled, nevertheless, with exceptional perks – ambassadors of Thoroughbred aftercare and Thoroughbred racing at Old Friends.

From East Coast to West Coast and many places in between, these guys have done it all, and now they're waiting for you: Come hear their stories.

Kings of New York

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Longtime rivals on the racetrack, King Kreesa (front) and Kharafa are now buddies and share a paddock at Old Friends.

By Rick Capone

Almost everybody enjoys watching a great rivalry, and horse racing has had some great ones over the years, such as Noor and Citation in 1950, Affirmed and Alydar in 1978, and Sunday Silence and Easy Goer in 1989, to name just a few.

Since its founding by Michael Blowen in 2003, Old Friends has been home to a few Thoroughbreds that had exciting rivalries, including Kiri's Clown and Awad.

Kiri's Clown and Awad met in three races, with Awad winning twice. Their most exciting race was in the 1995 Grade 1 Sword Dancer Invitational Handicap, where Kiri's Clown beat Awad by a neck.

In 2018, Old Friends added a unique rivalry to its roster, as three New York-breds—Lubash, King Kreesa, and Kharafa—arrived at the farm in Georgetown, Ky. These horses had electrified New York racetracks from 2013 to 2018 with a three-horse rivalry that kept fans on the edge of their seats every time two, or all three, were in a race together.

Lubash

The first horse born to the rivalry was Lubash. He was foaled in New York on Feb. 24, 2007, and is by perennial leading New York sire Freud out of Nasty Cure, by Cure the Blues.

Todd Pivnick, who owned Lubash's dam, kept the colt to race.

Lubash broke his maiden his second time out in a maiden race at Aqueduct on March 31, 2010, and then went on to win a number of stakes races outside of the rivalry.

As a 3-year old in 2010, he won the Fifth Marine Stakes at Belmont, the Cab Calloway Stakes for statebreds at Saratoga, and the Monarch's Magic Stakes at Aqueduct.

As a 6-year old in 2013, he won the Fort Marcy Handicap at Belmont, and at 7 won the Grade 3 Tropical Turf Handicap at Gulfstream Park West.

Pivnick credits his first trainer Jimmy Ryerson with giving Lubash a good start to his racing career.

"He's really sharp on how he takes his time and brings up his horses, by being patient and just bringing him along and doing the right things by him," Pivnick said.

Pivnick, however, decided to turn Lubash over to Christophe Clement, one of the top trainers in the United States.

"It just so happened things didn't work out in his 4-year-old year and ... we made the trainer switch," Pivnick said.

Kharafa

The second horse born to the rivalry was Kharafa. Foaled in New York on March 7, 2009, Kharafa is by Kitalpha out Exquisite Cassie, by King of Kings.

According to owner Paul Braverman, he purchased Kharafa from owner-breeder Larry Durocher, who had died but had instructed his daughter Kate to promise to sell all the horses, because he did not want to “impose his hobby and passion on her.”

“Reluctantly, she sold Tim Pinch and me the horse,” Braverman said. “What was nice was that Kate would come to some of his races and remained a true and loyal fan throughout Kharafa’s career.”

Kharafa broke his maiden in his second start, a maiden race at Belmont on Sept. 16, 2011.

During his career outside of the rivalry, he won two stakes, the Three Coins Up Stakes at Aqueduct at 4 and the Elkwood Stakes at Monmouth Park in New Jersey at 6.

Kharafa had one trainer his entire career, Tim Hills, and Braverman praised Hills for the horse’s success.

“The story of Kharafa is as much a story of the trainer as a story of the horse,” Braverman said. “Tim is a wonderful horseman, great trainer, and exceptional caretaker. He developed Kharafa as a baby.

“Kharafa had very few vet bills in his life and I give Tim Hills all the credit for how well he managed his career and how wonderfully he took care of the horse.”

King Kreesa

The third horse born to the rivalry was King Kreesa. Foaled in New York on May 26, 2009, King Kreesa is by King Cugat out of Storm’s Advance, by Storm Creek.

Gerald Kresa and his wife, Susan, were the owners, and according to Gerald, they were originally in a partnership. They had bought Storm’s Advance with King Kreesa in utero, but when King Kreesa was a weanling, the partnership dissolved, so the Kresas ended up with the mother and her foal.

According to Gerald Kresa, King Kreesa had a bit of a tough start to his racing career, flipping in the gate before his career debut, necessitating him being scratched, and then losing by 24 lengths in his first start.

But in his second start, on turf, he turned it around by winning gate to wire. His affinity for grass became evident and he became a turf specialist, making 40 of his 43 starts on turf, and earning $1,420,634 on the surface.

In his career outside of the rivalry, King Kreesa won six stakes. The first two came in 2012 as a 3-year old, both at Belmont, winning the New York Stallion Spectacular Bid Stakes and the London Company Stakes. He won the Poker Stakes at Belmont twice, at 4 and 6, and took back-to-back runnings of the Forbidden Apple Stakes at Belmont at ages 6 and 7.

The rivalry

The rivalry among the three horses took place from 2013 through 2018. During that time, two of them met 17 times and all three of them met on seven occasions, and most of the time they finished in the money together (see table).

When only two of the three faced off against each other, Kharafa led the way with six wins, while Lubash and King Kreesa each won four times.

When all three ran against each other, Lubash and King Kreesa each won twice, while Kharafa won once.

When all three ran in the same race and one of them did not win, they filled second through fourth places each time.

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

For their owners, the rivalry among their horses was very special and the highlight of their careers.

"These three would always take their turns at beating each other," Pivnick said. "Duals or trios. Sometimes they'd run two of them and you would hear the race-caller, '... and here come the two New York heavy-weights to battle it out again.' Or if it was the three of them, they would call it like, '... and, they're going at it again.' It gives me chills to think about it, because of how [those horses] just would take turns."

Said Gerald Kresa, "It was unbelievable. Four times they finished in the top three. It was a great rivalry. You always knew you were in for a fight. For all those years, it was just amazing."

Added Braverman, "What was more interesting was how many times when one of the three won, the other two finished second and third. They traded punches for six years and in the 55 years I have followed the sport, I am not aware of any other three horses who dueled each other for over six years straight. They put on a great show for the New York fans and always brought their 'A' game to the track."

Path to Old Friends

Lubash was the first to retire, following a fourth-place finish in an $80,000 optional claiming race at Belmont on July 14, 2017.

While he was still running well and giving his all in every race, one of the things his team had always talked about was to retire him sound.

"You know, the older you get, no matter what type of athlete you are, you put yourself at a little higher risk for injury, and we did not want something to go bad for him," Pivnick said. "He had a great career. He'd given us everything he had to give. We had got plenty of joyful afternoons from him and from the competition of all these horses. And, it was only the right thing to do to let him now enjoy his life."

Lubash ended his career with 18 wins, 9 seconds, 7 thirds, and $1,515,139 in earnings in 54 starts.

On the day he was retired, Clement tweeted, "Lubash has been retired, as he's not showing the same interest in training. He retires sound as a 10yo & we are SO very proud of his career!"

Because they had decided not to send him to stud, they began to look for a place to retire him.

"Where's the best place we can put him?" Pivnick asked. "Talking to Christophe and talking to some other people we were looking at retirement homes and I was looking at Old Friends in New York, because, hey, we're New York-bred – why not? But, then [we thought] why not keep him in Kentucky where it might be a little bit better winter, a little bit nicer scenery, and all that? It was just, where's the best place a retired racehorse could possibly spend the rest of his life in [a kind of] resort for horses."

In August 2017, the 10-year-old Lubash arrived at Old

Friends and now lives in a paddock that was once home to Jade Hunter and Bull Inthe Heather.

King Kreesa was the next of the three horses to retire. The decision came after the West Point Stakes at Saratoga on Aug. 24, 2018, against Kharafa. On that day, King Kreesa was just not himself and finished 10th, while Kharafa won the race.

"In the West Point, he didn't want to run anymore," Gerald Kresa said. "He put in a little bit of an effort, then he just gave it up. After that, we knew he was done. [He stood] in David Donk's barn before he shipped down to Lexington, and all he had to do was walk during the day and he was happy with that. That's not him. Before he'd have to have two people holding him. He loved going to the training track. So, we knew it was time."

King Kreesa ended his career with 11 wins, 8 seconds, 4 thirds, and $1,431,654 in earnings in 43 starts.

"We always told him we would take care of him – no matter what – and we are happy that Old Friends is helping and fulfilling that promise," Kresa said. "We miss King, but we are reassured knowing that he is in very good hands. Thank you over and over again."

As for the selection of Old Friends, according to Kresa, Blowen had already approached Donk a couple of years earlier about possibly retiring King Kreesa to Old Friends someday. Blowen explains: "David Donk had King Kreesa in a stakes race at Saratoga and he won. I went down after the race and went over to see David, because David had given us Awad and I knew he really liked Old Friends. I also knew King Kreesa was a gelding.

“Right then I asked him if sometime they would consider sending King Kreesa to Old Friends when it was time for him to retire. He introduced me to the owners and we had a very pleasant conversation, and I said, ‘Now’s not the time because, obviously, he’s in the winner’s circle at Saratoga. ... But, when he is, we’d love to have him.’

“So, [Donk] put the word in and two years later, I get the call. ‘Well, King Kreesa’s ready to retire, do you still want him?’ And, I said, ‘Sure do. That’s really great.’”

In Sept. 2018, the 9-year old King Kreesa arrived at Old Friends to enjoy his retirement.

Blowen, who had seen all three horses run against each other, was happy to have Lubash and King Kreesa at the farm. “I remember when King Kreesa and Lubash used to run against each other, so I thought it would be really cool to have both of them on the farm.”

One interesting story about the two horses that Blowen likes to tell came with the arrival of King Kreesa. “We had King Kreesa in a paddock by the road, and we had to bring Lubash up from the back to have Dr. [Bryan] Walldridge look at him. And, everything’s fine. Lubash is walking by every other field with every other horse, no big deal, just walking straight ahead being very professional. Then he took one look at King Kreesa, and King Kreesa took one look at him, and they went bananas. He just jumped up and down and they really recognized each other. You could just tell that they knew who the other one was.”

Kharafa’s retirement came two months after his win in the West Point Stakes. He finished his career with 13 wins, 13 seconds, 9 thirds, and $1,238,622 in earnings in 52 starts.

As to where to retire him, Braverman already had Old Friends in his mind.

“I always knew Old Friends was a home of champions and I always had the highest respect for Michael Blowen and how much he has done for the aftercare of these amazing athletes,” Braverman said. “It was an honor to be accepted at Old Friends, and it is such a wonderful retirement home for these animals. There are no stalls; they are out grazing all day and sleeping outdoors at night, just the way the horses in the wild live.”

In October 2018, one month after King Kreesa arrived at Old Friends, 9-year old Kharafa joined his two rivals at the farm.

To Blowen, having all three on the farm is great. “Well, we’ve got the whole trifecta on the farm now,” said Blowen with a big smile.

Today, Kharafa and King Kreesa share the same paddock with a few other geldings, but those two are inseparable paddock pals. You can always find them side-by-side all day long.

A Grade 3 winner at age 7 and an earner of $1.5 million, Lubash came to Old Friends a month after he retired in July 2017.

Einstein's brilliance

By Cynthia Grisolia

Einstein, a son of Horse of the Year Spend a Buck, made a few brilliant moves throughout his career.

Bred in Brazil, he made his American debut for trainer Helen Pitts-Blasi at Keeneland as a 3-year-old in 2005. A dazzling start but a weak stretch run led to a fifth-place finish. But Einstein put it together just two weeks later, blistering the field at Churchill Downs and going on a stretch of four wins in five starts that culminated with a victory in the Grade 1 Gulfstream Park Breeders' Cup Stakes on turf.

In his racing career, Einstein accomplished what few racehorses have done: He earned Grade 1 victories on three different track surfaces – the Joe Hirsch Turf Classic Stakes at Belmont Park on turf, the Clark Handicap at Churchill Downs on dirt, and the Santa Anita Handicap on synthetic. And in 2009, were it not for a tough trip resulting in a third-place finish in the Grade 1 Stephen Foster Handicap, Einstein might have been the first horse to ever win Grade 1 races on all three surfaces in the same year.

Einstein also took the Grade 1 Gulfstream Park Turf Stakes in 2008, the Grade 2 Mervin H. Muniz Jr. Memorial Handicap at Fair Grounds in 2007, and two runnings of the Grade 1 Woodford Reserve Turf Classic Stakes at Churchill, in 2008 and 2009. He ran in the 2009 Breeders' Cup Classic, but, like all the other horses in the race, was defeated by the super mare Zenyatta.

Einstein finished his career with 11 wins in 30 starts and earnings of $2,945,238.

So how thrilled were we when Adena Springs called and said Einstein was concluding his stud career and needed a home? Then, how devastated were we when – only a few months after his arrival at Old Friends – the near-black stallion was diagnosed with a significant tumor that was, by all accounts, inoperable and life threatening?

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Einstein being visited by Michael Blowen shortly after his arrival at Old Friends in spring of 2019.

Enter Park Equine and Old Friends resident veterinarian Bryan Waldrige, whose motto may just be, "Don't stop believing."

Waldrige, working in conjunction with Dr. Rhodes Bell at Park Equine Hospital in Versailles, Ky., performed an ultrasound examination and decided that it may be possible to remove the mass. The team was able to successfully excise Einstein's tumor, leaving him with a very good prognosis.

Waldrige explains it best: "Einstein had an episode of colic, and it was discovered that he had a testicular tumor. Testicular tumors are rare in horses. It is likely that Einstein's history as a high-flanker, or ridgling – a male animal with one or both testicles undescended – somewhat hid the tumor because the retained testicle is carried higher than the normal testicle and was not as noticeable as it could have been.

"Ultrasound examination revealed that the testicular mass was very large but did not appear to extend into the abdomen. It was decided to attempt surgical removal of the affected testicle as well as the normal testicle. Surgery was performed by Dr. Bell. Einstein was anesthetized and placed on his back. The cancerous testicle was removed carefully because of its size and extensive blood supply, which had to be tied off or cauterized with each blood vessel encountered. Once removed, the mass weighed nine pounds and was submitted for examination by a veterinary pathologist. Thankfully, the cancer was identified as a seminoma, the most common, and usually benign, testicular tumor in stallions.

"Einstein recovered well from surgery and had some minor surgical wound infection that responded well to treatment. His prognosis is good, and it is unlikely that he will have any long-term effects from the tumor.

"Einstein's cancer treatment is another wonderful example of concerned owners and several veterinarians coming together to help a horse in need. He should be able to enjoy a long and happy retirement at Old Friends with his fans."

Thanks to Park Equine, doctors Waldrige and Bell, and the generous team at Adena Springs, our black stallion is his old self again and calling for treats on a regular basis.

"Einstein has a lot of fans," notes Old Friends founder Michael Blowen, "and I'm sure they'll be flocking to visit him."

He'll be waiting.

Slim's journey to Old Friends

By Cynthia Grisolia

Most horses just come to Old Friends when their racing careers are over. Others, on occasion, have to be stalked, like in the case of Slim Shadey.

The 11-year-old Slim arrived at Old Friends in August of 2019. But his journey to a well-earned retirement was, well, a bit circuitous. A three-time graded stakes winner, Slim Shadey, by Breeders' Cup Mile winner Val Royal, was bred in Great Britain by Phil Cunningham and spent two seasons racing in England and Ireland. He made his U.S. debut for Cunningham and trainer Simon Callaghan in 2012 at Santa Anita, kicking off what was to become his banner season.

In February of 2012, Slim Shadey captured his first stakes, the Grade 2 San Marcos Stakes at Santa Anita (a race he would win again in 2013), in his third North American start. Then, in September, Slim Shadey took the top spot in the Grade 2 John Henry Turf Championship Stakes, which served as a stepping-stone to a run in the Grade 1 Breeders' Cup Turf, where he finished eighth, beaten less than six lengths by the winner, Old Friends retiree Little Mike.

By 2016, the then-8-year-old Slim went through series of claims, first to Mitchel Friedman for Blue Stork Stables, then to trainer-owner David Jacobson, back to Blue Stork, then to John Servis for owner Michael Dubb.

By 2017, he began sliding down the claiming ranks, and his flagging career began to attract the attention of worried fans, who started a groundswell of concern on social media. He also came on the Old Friends radar of founder and president Michael Blowen.

"I began stalking Slim Shadey two years ago," Blowen said. "Maybe it was his good looks or my vague memory of him skimming up the rail to fill out the exacta behind Little Mike in the 2012 Woodford Reserve Turf Classic at Churchill Downs. I'm not sure. But I was certain of one thing – it was love at first sight."

Soon after, Blowen approached then-owner Dubb when Slim Shadey was racing at Saratoga. Dubb agreed to retire Slim to Old Friends when his racing days were finished.

But that was not to be the end. In 2018, he was claimed again, this time by owner Michael Hui and trainer Mike Maker. Blowen kept an eye on the dark bay gelding and monitored his whereabouts.

After a series of unsuccessful starts, the time finally came for Slim to hang up his racing plates. And Hui, who earlier in 2019 retired his war horse Hogy to Old Friends, agreed to uphold the original promise made to Blowen. Slim Shadey made his final start on Aug. 2 at Indiana Grand at age 11, and was pensioned after a nine-year racing career that boasted 83 starts, 14 wins, and earnings of $1,278,855.

"We were told to watch out for Slim because he liked to kick and bite," Blowen said. (Indeed, a YouTube video of a feisty 3-year-old Slim double-barreling a TV camera during a post parade had gone viral near the time of his retirement.) "But we've seen none of it so far. He's friendly, kind, appreciative, and beautiful. Thanks to both Michaels and all his fans for allowing us the privilege to see him every day."

Old Friends by the numbers

By Cynthia Grisolia

They say it is quality not quantity that counts.

But here at Old Friends, it seems like we're always measuring things in amounts: How many races won; how much money earned; the pounds of carrots chopped. Sometimes, the numbers are staggering, so we thought we'd share them.

Herewith, the sum of our parts:

No rest for the weary

By Little Silver Charm

You know me. I never complain. But lately I'm feeling just a wee bit overwhelmed. My many, many jobs here at Old Friends have me on the run, racing from place to place. Sometimes I have to pause and ask myself: Where am I? What am I supposed to be doing now?

One of my most important jobs is helping our new arrivals adjust to retirement. I try to stress the importance of a positive attitude, of being friendly and welcoming to the thousands of visitors they will meet on tours. I advise them to think of themselves as ambassadors for the sport of Thoroughbred racing as well as for the concept of Thoroughbred retirement. And above all, I caution them never to bite anyone.

Generally speaking, I prefer to do one-on-one tutorials, but lately we have had so many new retirees that I have been forced to instruct two at a time. Soi Phet and Hoky were no problem. Both are experienced campaigners and true gentlemen. Similarly, our lovely new mares, Saudi Poetry and Classy Charm, were a pleasure to initiate into the rules of retirement.

Others were not so easy.

Einstein insisted on addressing me as "Shorty," which did nothing to further the educational process. And Diversify greeted me by asking, in a very superior tone, "I'm a New York-bred. What are you?"

I wouldn't take this sort of abuse if I weren't so dedicated to Old Friends.

The bald-headed madman who claims to run this place keeps asking more and more of me. Now he expects me to accompany him on his morning walk down the driveway to check the mailbox. Then I have to inspect both cemeteries to make sure everything is properly maintained. After that we greet our visitors, then he and I race Touch Gold or War Emblem along the fence line to entertain the tour. (I only race Classic winners. One of these days I'm going to beat one of them. I think I would have won already if I hadn't been held back.)

All these tasks threaten to take time away from my main job, acting as spokeshorse for Old Friends. And they cut into my private time. I'm the creative type. I need time to pursue my artistic interests. I've been trying to start writing a sequel to "A Charmed Life," my very popular memoir, but I can't seem to find the time. Maybe I should think about engaging an assistant to help with my work around the farm, but who?

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

I always look good, but all these jobs they throw at me are sometimes a bit too much.

The catbird seat

By Maggie

When Old Friends farm manager Tim Wilson appointed me Barn Cat-In-Chief, I wasn't sure I was up to the job. But Tim had great confidence in me. I had worked with him at The Thoroughbred Training Center in Lexington, so he was acquainted with my capabilities.

There is more to being a barn cat than just being good at catching mice and other rodents. Of course, I am good at that, very good, if I say so myself. But it's one of the easier parts of the job.

My days are full. From my headquarters in the main equipment barn, I keep an eye on the big tractor and the other farm machinery. It's very time consuming. I have to stay alert and yet make time for naps, meditation, and simply staring off into the distance. It's important to be well rested.

A barn cat's life is challenging. Recently there has been a fox prowling about the place. I must stay watchful, and warn the other cats of possible danger. I have five cats on my staff – Bootsie, Dina, Rosebud, Daisy, and Moe. None of them is as experienced as I am or – I speak frankly here – as smart. So I have to remind them to be on the lookout for predators, mainly fox and coyotes, but also for hawks and owls and a bald eagle that turns up occasionally.

We have lots of visitors at the barn. There are two feral cats who come around on a regular basis. There's a mother raccoon and her three little ones. I tell the other cats not to be fooled by their cuteness. Raccoons, especially mother raccoons, can be fierce. We've also had visits from a mother skunk and her babies. I had to teach our two young cats, Daisy and Moe, to keep their distance.

All these animals show up to eat our food. Sometimes they try to eat it before we do and often they succeed. Fortunately, there's always a lot of food to share, that's one of the perks of working here at Old Friends.

Do you know that some people don't believe in feeding barn cats? They think starving a cat will make her a better mouser. This is nonsense. I like a nice juicy mouse as much as the next cat, but I believe in a well-rounded diet that includes both dry and wet cat food, plus the occasional treat. Nutrition is an important part of barn cat fitness. So is exercise. It may seem that I don't move around very much, but when I think no one is looking, I like to run around madly in circles. I try to do it at least once a day. It's a cat thing.

Maggie takes her supervisory responsibilities in the equipment barn seriously, and manages a staff of five.

In memoriam

By Mary Simon

Old Friends is a happy place, representing the very best of the Thoroughbred sport. It's a place where we love and care for our own, where horses come to live out their days in comfort – whether a champion or a low-level claimer. They come to Old Friends as aged or injured athletes, as pensioned stallions, as infertile broodmares; some arrive in the prime of their post-racing lives. And in this egalitarian world, all are cherished and treated with dignity. But with love inevitably comes heartbreak when they pass.

Since Memorial Day 2018, we had to bid goodbye to 19 “old friends,” including the following:

A P Valentine had an unbeatable pedigree, being by A.P. Indy, out of a classy Alydar mare, and half-brother to a champion. Hall of Famer Nick Zito developed him for basketball coach Rick Pitino from a $475,000 yearling into one of the best 2-year-olds of his crop.

A P Valentine's shining moment came in the 2000 Champagne Stakes, when he defeated future Hall of Famer Point Given. Within hours of that performance, Coolmore had paid a cool $16 million to acquire breeding rights to the rising star. The following spring, he emerged as a classic contender. Though unplaced in the Derby, he rebounded for second behind Point Given in both the Preakness and Belmont.

When the Grade 1 winner was retired to Ashford Stud, expectations were high, but he proved to be subfertile and had just 28 lifetime foals.

A P Valentine was pensioned and came to Old Friends in February 2018, but he died not too long afterward from colic.

Bint Marscay was a champion Down Under – described by her trainer as “the yardstick by which Australian 2-year-olds are measured.” She won the Golden Slipper, Australia's marquee event for juveniles, and earned more than $1 million before retiring to what at first seemed an equally impressive career as a matron.

Her first four foals included three group winners, but after that ... nothing. Literally. At age 9 her reproductive system shut down and she never produced another living foal. In 2002, Bint Marscay was sent to the United States and bred to notable sires – to no avail.

Those reproductive difficulties led to her 2013 donation to Old Friends, where she became photographer Laura Battles's beloved “Binty” and paddock mate of champion Hidden Lake. Binty became one of the resident mares who inspired the “Old Girlfriends” program. She died at age 29, after bravely battling chronic arthritis.

Old Friends lost another “Old Girlfriend” in Black Tie Countess, who was special, in part, because she was a daughter of one of Old Friends's most revered residents, the late Black Tie Affair. Countess could not emulate her famous sire on the track as she raced on through age 7 and won just 3 of 49 starts. In her second career, she produced two winners from five foals before her donation to Old Friends in 2014. Countess dealt with a number of physical ailments through her final years, but nevertheless enjoyed life in the company of other old girlfriends. She died in October 2018 at age 23.

Danthebluegrassman represented all that was good about racing and the modern Thoroughbred. Named after Dan Chandler, son of the late Kentucky Gov. “Happy” Chandler, he was a big-hearted, hard-trying colt for trainer

Bob Baffert, with victories in the 2002 Golden Gate Derby and Gold Rush Stakes.

The gold-hued son of Pioneering sadly ended his racing years in a $7,500 claiming race at Penn National, and with the help of supporters Tim Ford and Jim Ponte, he was retired to Old Friends. Dan's "homecoming" was celebrated with the Gallatin County Youth Bluegrass Band performing their "Ballad of Danthebluegrassman," and Dan was later showcased at the Kentucky Horse Park's National Bluegrass Festival.

The flashy gelding knew his own mind, but his kindly personality made him well liked by visitors. He roamed the pastures for more than a decade before an intestinal obstruction took him in March 2019.

Old Friends at Cabin Creek lost a good one in Driven by Success. The New York-bred banked $607,099 for Repole Stable while winning sprint stakes at every major track in the Empire State. He also finished third in the Grade 1 Metropolitan Handicap.

Driven by Success was retired by owner Mike Repole at age 7, when it had become apparent he'd lost his top form. The chestnut gelding arrived in September 2012 at Old Friends at Cabin Creek in upstate New York, where he would live out his all-too-short life lovingly attended. At age 13, he was euthanized in 2018 due to an incurable neuromuscular disorder.

Gasconade was one of the more reserved residents of the back pasture at Old Friends, a rowdy collection of geldings. While more aggressive members of the group crowded the fence line, biting and shoving one another when visitors arrived with carrots, Gasconade would hang back – it required patience and impeccable timing to get a treat to him.

He was the son of Breeders' Cup winners War Chant and Brave Raj, though was himself an allowance-class runner on his best day. Gasconade won three races and $75,000 before ending up in Fair Grounds claiming company. He came to Old Friends in his prime, a big, strapping horse. Unfortunately, during his final years Gasconade battled a rare melanoma that would not respond to treatment, though Dr. Waldrige tried all he could to hold it at bay. When the cancer began spreading in the summer of 2018, those who loved him finally surrendered to the inevitable and he was euthanized that June.

Old Friends lost one of its best friends and a high-profile front-paddock resident last year with the passing of Genuine Reward.

His fame came from a notable pedigree rather than racetrack achievement. Genuine Reward was out of the great Genuine Risk, who in 1980 became the second filly to win the Kentucky Derby. But as a broodmare, Genuine Risk had trouble producing live foals. Genuine Reward would be her first to survive – foaled when she was 16 – and his birth ignited national celebration. Mark Simon, editor of Thoroughbred Times, penned a viewpoint entitled "Genuine Reward," heralding the colt's long-awaited arrival. Breeder Bert Firestone liked that, and so named the priceless foal.

Genuine Reward never raced due to physical issues. A male doppelganger for his legendary dam, the blaze-faced chestnut entered stud in Virginia in the 1990s, but didn't do well and eventually disappeared. In 2015, he resurfaced – on Craigslist of all places – offered for $500 in Wyoming, where he had been siring polo ponies. "Seabiscuit" author Laura Hillenbrand promptly bought him and facilitated his relocation to Old Friends in July 2015.

The lovable, absolutely gorgeous stallion became a fan favorite, a golden ambassador for the farm. Genuine Reward was once called "the most famous racehorse who never raced." He has been sorely missed every day since his passing in August 2018 due to bowel disease at age 26.

In the winter of his life, Geri was that sweet old stallion with the devil-may-care forelock, who amiably greeted visitors with the shredded carrots he craved. He had a regal presence and needed no reminder of his own innate greatness.

Geri owned it from the outset. Bred like a prince, he was by a champion and leading sire, from a graded stakes-producing Mr. Prospector mare. He joined his breeder Allen Paulson's big-league stable, for which he became a shining star nearly a quarter-century ago.

During a 50-week span between April 1995 and April 1996, Geri was unbeatable. He won everywhere and at a variety of distances, leading writer Andrew Beyer to describe him as "the one horse on earth who may be as good as Cigar."

While Geri never met his Hall of Fame stablemate, he compiled a stellar record of his own, with nine wins and $1.7 million in earnings.

Geri later stood in Kentucky, Asia, and Europe, getting nothing close to replicating himself. After Old Friends office manager Sylvia Stiller crossed paths with him in Italy a few years back, he was repatriated and pensioned in 2013, with the generous support of Madeleine Paulson.

He lived a great life at the farm until passing in May 2019.

Highland Ack wasn't a particularly well-known resident of Old Friends, but he was beloved and just as cared for as the rich and famous. He made six starts and not only failed to hit the board, he never earned a penny. After that lackluster racing career, "Landy" earned a second chance when former exercise rider Melinda Schreck developed him into a hunter-jumper and dressage competitor. But age eventually took its toll on that career, and in 2014 the gelding found a happy new home at Old Friends. He passed away at age 30 in 2019.

I'm Charismatic was lost in 2018 due to complications of chronic arthritis. That was not the only physical trial the son of Old Friends's late Charismatic was tested with in later years. The 17-year-old gelding was afflicted with an eye condition known as "moon blindness," which resulted in milky white retinas and, ultimately, total loss of vision. Did he feel sorry for himself? No way. Self-pity simply was not in his DNA.

I'm Charismatic was one of those iron horses who form the backbone of our sport. More than half of his 92 starts over eight seasons were in claiming company, and he won or placed in 42 of them, earning $201,298 the hard way. After descending over time to basement-level claiming at Beulah Park, he was purchased in 2010 by Jason and Mary Matthews and retired to Old Friends.

Eventually, he was paired with graded stakes winner Arson Squad. They proved to be a perfect combo. Although Arson had been the superior racehorse, I'm Charismatic was the alpha male. As his eyesight dimmed, then flickered out, he at times appeared to use his easygoing companion as a guide. And nothing could deter his cheerful approach for carrots fence-side, where he often beat his sighted buddy to the punch.

Lusty Latin was once a horse of high promise. The California-bred was claimed early on for $62,000 as a tax write-off, then developed within months into a classic contender. Gray-coated like his sire El Prado, he became a stakes winner at Turf Paradise before finishing third in the Santa Anita Derby. Owner Joey Platts had at least 15 offers of as much as $1.5 million for Lusty Latin after that race, but he turned them all down.

Things went bad thereafter for the talented colt. It was found he was hindered by an undescended testicle that only castration could resolve. Post-surgery, Lusty Latin nevertheless made it into the starting lineup for the 2002 Kentucky Derby, in which he lagged far back and finished 15th of 18 behind the winner, Old Friends denizen War Emblem.

After an eight-season career and a descent into lower claiming ranks, the winner of $439,729 found his way to his forever home, where he resided peacefully with pasture pal Hussonfirst. He was a happy fellow, despite a constant nasal discharge due to long-ago surgery that required he eat off the ground to facilitate drainage. The sweet old speckled gray died in 2018 at age 19.

Washington-bred Makors Mark, with his bright chestnut coat and broadly blazed face, stood out in a crowd, both on the track and in retirement. A six-time stakes winner in 29 starts, he earned more than $430,000 in the Pacific Northwest, his crowning moment winning the Grade 2 British Columbia Derby of 2000. He would be voted Washington's champion 3-year-old male and the following season best older male. At stud, Makor sired just 49 foals, but one was Makors Finale, 2012 Washington horse of the year.

Makors Mark arrived at Old Friends a number of years ago and resided at a satellite farm at the time of his passing at age 22.

Napoli Express was gentle and loved kids. What could be better than that? The French-bred gelding, nicknamed "Jacques," spent most of his nine-start racing career in France, running only once in the United States, a bang-up second in a turf allowance at Hollywood Park. Jacques was donated to Old Friends in May 2014 and was paddocked on the new part of the farm with several other ex-racehorses, including 2003 Breeders' Cup Sprint winner Cajun Beat. He died in November 2018 at age 24.

Ready's Rocket was a very little guy, standing 15 hands, if that. But what he lacked in physical stature, he made up for in fighting spirit. The tough-as-nails gelding was from an early crop of a young stallion named More Than Ready, destined to become a global force in breeding with 200 stakes winners and counting. Ready's Rocket would not be one of those. In fact, over eight seasons and in 74 starts, he never even ran in a stakes.

But Ready's Rocket distinguished himself in other ways. A fiercely competitive front-runner in starter allowances and optional claimers, he ground it out year after year on the Kentucky circuit, showing a special affinity for Churchill Downs's famed dirt surface. At the home of the Run for the Roses, he became a fan favorite while scoring a modern-day track record 11 wins there. Brave and full of heart, Rocket worked hard for his $261,636 bankroll. After winning his final start on May 1, 2012, to establish that Churchill record, he was retired by owner-trainer Tim Glyshaw. That spring Ready's Rocket was shipped straight from the track to Old Friends.

When stricken with laminitis early in 2019, the little fighter met an unforgiving rival he just couldn't beat. He is missed by many, including special friend Geronimo.

Regal Sanction began as a spectacular auction pinhook when he sold for $27,000 as a weanling, then resold months later for $165,000. The blaze-faced son of Regal Classic would prove worth every penny of that and more. His career peaked when winning the 2002 Pegasus Handicap. It was his only stakes win, though he placed in other stakes and took home part of the purse in 21 of 24 starts before an infected ankle sidelined him for good.

Regal Sanction was donated as a stallion prospect by owners John and Susan Moore to a foundation they'd established to raise money for equine charities. He held court at Metropolitan Stud in New York but, in the end, sired just 13 foals. The final phase of his life began on July 26, 2009, when the then-10-year-old arrived at Old Friends, where he was eventually gelded. On Oct. 7, 2018, he died after being stricken with a sudden onset of colic.

The "boss mare" is gone. On May 5, 2019, the big, nearly black Santona became the third Old Girlfriend to leave us in the past year.

Santona had been a champion in her native Chile, and even in old age she looked and acted the part of one. After winning the Chilean Oaks and a 1997 turf title, she came to the U.S. to race for Earle Mack and trainer Jimmy Jerkens. Santona couldn't quite replicate her Southern Hemisphere form here, though she placed twice on Belmont Park grass before retiring.

She produced 10 foals, and her best by far was Grand Hombre, a near-millionaire and winner of the 2003 Pennsylvania Derby. When her producing days ended in 2011, Mack pensioned Santona to Old Friends, where she became the dominant "girlfriend" in Pasture 31. The big, beautiful mare with the outsized personality was lost to complications from colic.

Say Florida Sandy was an iron horse and a true warrior, who compiled numbers rarely seen these days on a racetrack. He was that rarest of Thoroughbreds – a high-class stallion who raced through age 9, winning 33 of 98 starts, including 19 East Coast stakes. Sandy's career bankroll of nearly $2.1 million ranks him in the upper echelon of New York-bred earners. He was honored as the Empire State's champion 2-year-old male, was best sprinter three times, and was twice the horse of the year.

Unfortunately, as a sire the popular local champ would get just one minor stakes winner from 200-plus foals. Sandy was pensioned and sent to Old Friends five years ago. A sensitive stallion who did not do well with crowds, he spent his final years at the Hurstland satellite facility, where he died on July 11, 2018, from an apparent heart attack.

Few have ridden life's roller coaster to such extremes as Silver Ray, who died from orthopedic disease at age 30 on New Year's Day 2019. During those long years he experienced the highest of highs and lowest of lows, before landing at Old Friends.

Silver Ray was nearly black with a perfect star on his forehead. The Silver Hawk colt sold for $80,000 as a yearling to Jerry and Ann Moss and eventually earned back $268,532 on the track while becoming a stakes winner. At stud in California, he got but a handful of foals, with nothing notable.

Somewhere along the way, Ray fell through the cracks. In July 2013, he was discovered at a livestock auction, aged and painfully thin. Silver Ray was acquired for $30 and nursed back to health by Catherine Trope of Polo Pony Rescue. A newspaper article about his plight came to the attention of the Mosses, and his former owners brought him home to Old Friends. He lived the final six years of his life in a manner most deserving, loved by all ... especially by volunteer tour guide Ellen Zehnder.

Michael Blowen once described Yankee Fournune as "one of the most lovable retirees" at Old Friends, which took some doing, since the place is filled to the rafters with lovable horses. The good-natured gelding was lost to chronic arthritis on May 28, 2019, at the relatively youthful age of 12. Gone, way too soon.

The gray gelding was bred by former Kentucky Gov. Brereton Jones and sold to Harvey Clarke for $37,000 as a Keeneland yearling. For Clarke and trainer Kiaran McLaughlin he was undefeated in five turf starts at 3, including graded stakes at Hawthorne and Churchill Downs. He was claimed from Clarke for $50,000 in 2012 and thereafter began the all-too-common trek down the class ladder.

Clarke kept tabs on his favorite, and when he learned the horse was sick and required emergency colic surgery, he stepped in and paid for it. He took over care of Yankee and eventually donated the gray gelding in 2015 to Old Friends, visiting often. Clarke passed away in early 2019, followed four months later by his old friend.

Old Friends at Cabin Creek Farm

What JoAnn and Mark Pepper and their band of intelligent, invaluable volunteers have done with Old Friends at Cabin Creek: The Bobby Frankel Division in Greenfield Center, N.Y., is nothing short of remarkable.

The facility, built nearly single-handedly by Mark, is a picture postcard – a Shangri-La – of Thoroughbred retirement. Home to America's lovable loser Zippy Chippy, whose motto is "Winners don't always finish first," and two-time Whitney victor Commentator, Cabin Creek has done things so well I have to visit to pick up pointers on how to improve our facility in Kentucky.

Over the years, the Peppers have shown great faith in the Old Friends concept. In the beginning, before the current surge in support from New York owners and breeders and some great fundraising during the Saratoga meet, donations were hard to come by. However, with the unerring faith of Vivien Malloy, Jack Knowlton of Sackatoga Stables, Terry Finley of West Point Thoroughbreds, the New York Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association, and Mike Repole, who allowed us to retire Cool N Collective, a great son of Ruhlmann, Cabin Creek has prospered.

Every one of its retirees has a great story. From King Congie's unwavering support from West Point, his original owners, when he found himself in a dangerous situation, to Travers Stakes winner Will's Way, JoAnn treats them all the same.

Visitors who have never been to a horse race mingle with savvy trainers, owners, and jockeys during tours that are both entertaining and enlightening.

And, while it might take some twisting and turning through the back roads of rural Saratoga County, I've never met one person who said it wasn't worth the trip. It's a tribute to the Peppers, the Saratoga community, and all of our great retirees.

The horses always look great. And that's the most important thing.

Cabin Creek is located in Greenfield Center, N.Y., just 10 miles from Saratoga Race Course. Tours are open-house style during the summer race meet and by appointment at other times.

Show your love for an Old Friends horse by sponsoring your favorite retiree. You will receive a personalized certificate and an 8x10 color photograph. Certificates are available for all horses. They make great gifts for the horse lover in your life!

OLD GIRLFRIENDS SOCIETY – $100

For those who appreciate the great mares of Old Friends. Your lifetime membership comes with a photo and certificate of a featured Old girlFriend, an official Old girlFriends Society dog-tag necklace, your name on the society's webpage, and an annual visit with our Old girlFriends.

THE HOOF PATROL – $250 • $125 • $50

Four slim legs and four undersized hooves hold up a horse's full weight, which, for most Thoroughbreds, is in the ballpark of 1,200 pounds! Support the 800-plus hooves belonging to the residents of Old Friends. Your annual Hoof Patrol donation at the Gold ($250), Silver ($125), or Bronze ($50) level provides the Old Friends Hoof Patrol Team with the necessary tools to combat a variety of hoof ailments. Sign up and receive a horseshoe keychain designating your support level.

FRIEND FOR ALL SEASONS MONTHLY GIVING

Is monthly giving right for you? Do you believe in the reality of dignified equine retirement? Are you dedicated to helping horses find a forever home? Do you understand the value of a steadfast, reliable partnership? Your monthly Friend for All Seasons gift of any amount is gratefully received. Sign up to be a monthly donor and receive a gift of six popular Old Friends bookmarks.

FEED FOR A DAY CALENDAR – $100

Sponsor a date in our annual calendar to help feed our horses. For a $100 donation, you receive a name/message printed on the calendar for the day of your choice, on a first-come, first-served basis. You also get a free calendar. This is a timely opportunity to honor a loved one, a pet, your favorite horse, or a memorial date.

SPONSOR A PADDOCK ($5,000), STALL ($2,500), RUN-IN SHED ($2,000), WATERER ($1,000)

Receive an engraved plaque personalized with your name and displayed in our main barn, complimentary admission to Old Friends events, and the personal satisfaction of knowing that you have helped create a retirement home for a deserving horse!

PLANNED GIVING

Planned giving integrates your charitable gift with your overall financial- and estate-

planning goals to maximize benefits to both you and Old Friends. Planned gifts typically come from your assets rather than income and can be either outright or deferred. It is recommended that you consult with your own tax or legal advisers prior to making a planned gift. Your generosity will ensure that Old Friends continues to make a difference in the lives of retired racehorses. Some types of gifts include wills, living and charitable trusts, real estate, life insurance, and mutual funds.

AMAZON SMILE

Sign up at Amazon.Smile.com (a website operated by Amazon offering the same products, prices, and shopping features as amazon.com), select Old Friends as your charitable organization, and the AmazonSmile Foundation will donate 0.5 percent of the purchase price of eligible products to Old Friends.

FACEBOOK BIRTHDAY FUNDRAISER

Use Facebook to "donate" your birthday to Old Friends. Click on the fundraising tab on your Facebook NewsFeed, select Old Friends, set your fundraising goal, and invite your friends to spread the word.

KROGER COMMUNITY REWARDS

Support Old Friends by shopping at Kroger through the Kroger Community Rewards Program. Sign up by logging into your Kroger account and choosing Old Friends as your charitable organization. Kroger will allocate donations to Old Friends based on the purchases you make when you use your Kroger Plus card.

OLD FRIENDS EBAY STORE

Check out our great merchandise and weekly eBay auctions featuring one-of-a-kind merchandise and memorabilia.

FEED-BAG TAGS

Send us your proof-of-purchase feed-bag tags from bagged horse feed, including Tribute, Southern States, and Triple Crown.

THINK OUTSIDE THE STALL

Have a Kentucky Derby, Breeders' Cup, or racing-themed party. Invite 10 friends to your home, each contributing $10, and then donate for a share certificate in the Old Friends resident of your choice! Just think, if 10 of you sponsor your own party, that's $1,000 raised for Old Friends!

Our gift shop

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

By Selena the Cat, Manager

When you purchase anything in the Old Friends gift shop, you can be sure that it is of the highest quality and in the best of taste. That's because, as chief buyer and manager, I personally choose each and every item before awarding it the coveted Selena Seal of Approval.

In addition to buying, I have many gift shop-related tasks: flower arranging, creating attractive displays of our merchandise, quality control of our food items, knocking things on the floor to test their durability, and making sure that each and every T-shirt includes one or two black cat hairs from my personal collection.

Jewelry is my passion. I love bling. Recently I introduced a collection of black cat-themed jewelry that adds some much-needed feline interest to all the horsey stuff we carry. I'm also very literary. We have many horse books in the shop and now, thanks to me, we have that international best-seller "Crafting with Cat Hair," and my personal favorite, "All Black Cats Are Not Alike."

My days are so full, what with presiding over the front desk, greeting our visitors, bird-watching, stretching, snacking and, of course, napping. I also try to keep the other cats – Buddy, Lucy, and

Bobby – from messing with the merchandise, a job that is easier said than done. But despite how busy I am with day-to-day tasks, I am always looking to the future and trying to think of things that might appeal to the people who visit our gift shop. I'm considering replicating some of the collars in my personal collection. I have collars for every season and occasion, some of them exquisite European designs.

Here are some gift shop recommendations personally chosen by me, Selena the Cat:

- Enjoy a taste of Kentucky from vendors, including Kentucky Bad Dog Jelly; Red State BBQ sauces; Apple Creek specialty foods, including salsa, preserves, sauces, and marinades; mustards and rubs from Chef Ouita's Wallace Station and Windy Corner; unique horse-head and jockey silk cheese boards; stoneware by Deneen Pottery, and more:

- Silver Charm, War Emblem, and Old Friends embroidered ball caps; photo T-shirts with Big and Little Silver Charm; and T-shirts with our logo in a variety of styles and colors.

- Raku pottery by Thomas Porter, with a variety of styles incorporating the tail hair of our residents.

- Custom lockets containing a lock of hair from

- Authentic, worn halters from our retirees, including Awesome Gem, Little Mike, and Sun King.

- Literary offerings include "The Art of Old Friends," by artist-in-residence Dagmar Galleithner-Steiner, featuring more than 50 unique pastel and pencil drawings of past and present Old Friends retirees; "History of Old Friends" and "Celebrating Old Friends," by author Rick Capone; "A Charmed Life," by author and Old Friends spokeshorse Little Silver Charm; and "Old and New Friends," a stunning collection of photographs by Eclipse Award-winning Barbara Livingston.

- Kids' Korner offers Breyer model horses; Aurora plushies; books "Pasture Bedtime" and "Horses Book of Opposites" and baby bibs (I Eat Like a Horse & Hay I'm Hungry) from The Lazy One; and Piccoli custom plush horses.

Please drop in and shop! We are open daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Eastern.

You can call us, too: (502) 863-1775

Many of the items in the gift shop are available to order online at our eBay store, which is linked to our Web page at www.oldfriendsequine.org

Albert the Great

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Lexington-area banker and entrepreneur Tracy Farmer purchased a son of Go for Gin for $85,000 as a yearling at the Keeneland September sale in 1998 and named the colt Albert the Great for his breeder, Albert Clay, a descendant of statesman Henry Clay. Albert Clay was an influential leader in Thoroughbred racing for decades, helping found the American Horse Council, as well as the creation of the Kentucky Equine Research Foundation and the Maxwell Gluck Equine Research Center, among his many accomplishments.

As a breeder, Albert Clay was represented by 18 stakes winners, including five Grade 1 winners. Fittingly, the leading money earner bred by Clay was Albert the Great, who lived up to his lofty name by becoming an earner of more than $3 million and the winner of five graded stakes.

After he purchased the colt, Farmer turned him over to trainer Nick Zito and he developed into one of the best route runners in the country in 2000 and 2001. Unraced at 2, Albert the Great won the Jockey Club Gold Cup at the end of his 3-year-old season, and at 4 won the Suburban, Brooklyn, and Widener handicaps.

He went to stud in Kentucky in 2002 at Three Chimneys Farm, then owned by Robert Clay, Albert's son, and later moved to Pennsylvania for stud duties, standing through the 2016 season.

As a stallion, he sired nine stakes winners, including Grade 1 Wood Memorial Stakes winner Nobiz Like Shobiz, who also is at Old Friends.

— MARK SIMON

Michael says: Albert the Great, as his name suggests, is imperious. He is the king and everyone else – human and equine – are serfs. As long as he gets what he wants when he wants it, everything is fine. But if his neighbors, including his son Nobiz Like Shobiz, get any attention before he does, he paws at the ground, threatening an exacting price for the breakdown in protocol.

HORSE TALK

BECKY PIETRAS, TOUR GUIDE

Albert the Great is, well, just that – GREAT. A very accomplished racehorse who won more than $3 million, he has come to Old Friends to enjoy his retirement years. As a tour guide, I just love that he's here and makes my day – I call him Mr. Spunky. He definitely fills his paddock with his great looks and attitude, right up front to be on the lookout for tours and carrots. A big boy – he's 16.2 hands and he can really be a handful – he loves to show off. I really like when Old Friends gets a connection to the Triple Crown and this guy has it – he's a son of 1994 Kentucky Derby winner Go for Gin. And the way Albert looks now, I think he wouldn't mind challenging a few old foes. Albert also watches out for his son Nobiz like Showbiz in the next paddock, keeping him in line, so to speak, as in how to behave for tours. Just like a dad should do!

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Old Friends is very fortunate to be the unofficial retirement home for some of Tracy and Carol Farmer's best Thoroughbreds. It started with Commentator and Sun King and, now, the $3 million man, Albert the Great. The son of Kentucky Derby winner Go for Gin was a Grade 1 winner. His racing road was impressive but bumpy. He couldn't catch a break. After a smashing victory in the 2000 Jockey Club Gold Cup, the following year he finished second in the Whitney, Pimlico Special, Donn, and Woodward. His path to Old Friends was smoother. Tracy called.

Alphabet Soup

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

It wasn't just his white coat and a shocking upset of Cigar in the 1996 Breeders' Cup Classic that made Alphabet Soup stand out.

In nearly three full seasons of racing, Alphabet Soup earned just under $3 million, with a stakes résumé among the best of his era. Under the guidance of the savvy David Hofmans, the son of Cozzene won or placed in 12 graded stakes and hit the triple-digit mark on the Beyer Speed Figure scale in 12 of his last 13 starts.

The Breeders' Cup Classic field he gamely defeated at nearly 20-1 in 1996 was one of the best in the history of the race. In addition to Cigar, that year's Classic included Louis Quatorze, Editor's Note, Will's Way, and Formal Gold.

Alphabet Soup was retired following a bang-up second to Gentlemen in the 1997 San Antonio Handicap and was shipped off to co-owner Frank Stronach's Adena Springs in Kentucky. It was one of a number of stops the handsome stallion made in a stud career that spanned nearly two decades.

After standing his final season back at Adena Springs, Alphabet Soup, still as sound and good-looking as ever, headed to his new home at Old Friends, giving fans a chance to see a Breeders' Cup Classic winner in the flesh.

— IRWIN COHEN

Michael says: The three-horse photo finish in the 1996 Breeders' Cup Classic was heart-stopping. And, if you were Cigar or Louis Quatorze, heartbreaking. Because the white horse between them, guided by a perfect ride from Chris McCarron, was none other than Alphabet Soup. He's also the sire of longtime Old Friends resident Watchem Smokey.

HORSE TALK

CINDY GRISOLIA, BOARD MEMBER

They say opposites attract. At Old Friends, it's true. Case in point: Our 1996 Breeders' Cup Classic winner Alphabet Soup and his new comrade – a buzz-cut, short-stack of a donkey known as Gorgeous George. Soup joined Old Friends in 2015, donated to our farm after a breeding career at Adena Springs Kentucky. With his shimmering alabaster coat and champion résumé, he's one of our most popular residents. But one day it became apparent that Soup was deeply curious about his neighbor, our recently inherited donkey, Gorgeous George. Soup would stare at him all day long as if to say, 'Come over and play.' At first, the duo got to know each other across fence lines. But after a while, they were introduced formally. It was love. George and Soup are now inseparable, taking care of one another and keeping each other company. They even share treats. After all, what's a few carrots between friends?

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Adena Springs's Jack Jeziorski first visited the farm several years ago. I inquired about the possibility of retiring some of the great Adena stallions to Old Friends, and Jack said he'd look into it. Nothing happened for a while but, early in 2015, Adena's manager, Mike Rogers, came to see Old Friends and I inquired, specifically, about Alphabet Soup and Touch Gold. A few months later, accompanied by a generous donation from Frank Stronach, the most gorgeous horse who ever stepped foot on the farm arrived.

Amazombie

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

In case there was ever any doubt, Amazombie proved that it is okay to fall in love with a racehorse. Just ask his trainer, Bill Spawr, who owned him with his racing buddy Tom Sanford.

Spawr will tell you Amazombie was honest as a sunrise and durable as a Maytag. As a young horse he was a giveaway, tossed in with the purchase of a barnmate. He needed time, but eventually he settled into a beautiful groove, repeating his races over and over to the delight of his Zombie-loving fans.

Which Amazombie performance tasted best? Most will call up the 2011 Breeders' Cup Sprint, in which he beat the best the game could offer, or the race before that, in the Ancient Title, when he circled the field to seal the score.

There is support for his 2012 Bing Crosby, a thrilling re-affirmation of class. And then there was the 2011 Sunshine Millions Sprint, when he tipped his destiny by winning a three-way photo while shading 1:08.

Amazombie earned just shy of $2 million, no small sum for a free horse. In return, he has been given the gift of a life at Old Friends. The exchange rate seems about right.

— JAY HOVDEY

Michael says: Amazombie and Rapid Redux are pals. Sort of. They're like Ralph and Alice Kramden of "Honeymooners" fame. They argue a lot but they're inseparable. Amazombie is so kind that he allows Rapid to boss him around. Mike Smith adores Amazombie. And that's good enough for me.

HORSE TALK

JON LINDO, CO-OWNER

Originally a "throw-in" as part of a two-horse package purchased for $5,000 by trainer and part-owner Bill Spawr, Amazombie went on to win three Grade 1 races, including the 2011 Breeders' Cup Sprint, on the way to being named champion sprinter. In December 2011, after his Breeders' Cup Sprint victory, Spawr got a call from a major Kentucky farm. "When Amazombie is done racing, we would love to stand him at stud at our farm," said the stallion manager. "You must have a great veterinarian," was Spawr's reply. "Why?" asked the stallion manager. "Because he has been a gelding since 2009." So much for a stallion career, but the fact he is a gelding allows him to enjoy the attention and carrots he receives each and every day at Old Friends.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

When trainer Bill Spawr decided to retire Eclipse Award champ Amazombie, the timing couldn't have been better. We had just made arrangements to fly Game On Dude to Old Friends from California, and Amazombie got to hop aboard the same flight. Tex Sutton flew them both to Kentucky for free.

Arson Squad

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

First, there was the name, Arson Squad – way cool, especially since his momma was Majestic Fire. Samantha Siegel didn't care if he was a gelding when she bought him. He was a yearling and didn't know better. She wanted a racehorse and got one, 35 starts' worth, $1.1 million, and a trip to Dubai for the big dance in the desert. I watched him run many times, and I grieved when the tracks in California went synthetic. Arson Squad went east – but not before he won my all-time favorite race, the Strub Stakes, against horses who had won or would win the Hollywood Gold Cup, the Godolphin Mile, the Donn Handicap, the Santa Anita Derby, and two runnings of the Breeders' Cup Sprint. When he was hurt and Siegel said she would do whatever it took to fix him, you just knew everything would turn out okay. Lucky Arson Squad today, living the life at Old Friends.

– JAY HOVDEY

Michael says: Arson Squad was a terrific racehorse, but his job at Old Friends may be more important than his victories. He's the paddock companion of I'm Charismatic, who's blind. It's amazing to watch how Arson has become I'm Charismatic's eyes, never letting him out of sight, leading him to the fence to greet tourists and crunch on carrots.

HORSE TALK

NICK NEWMAN, TOUR GUIDE

When you become a firefighter you are told that every firefighter past and present is now your brother or sister. Our strength is derived from our bond and commitment to each other. If one of us goes down, we lift him up. When one of us gets seriously sick, we pitch in and cover his shifts so the paychecks don't stop coming in. We leave no man behind. The amazing horse Arson Squad is aptly named. Aside from being fearlessly heroic on the track, in retirement he showed the firefighter spirit even when it wasn't expected of him. When his paddock mate, I'm Charismatic, began suffering from the degenerative eye disorder recurrent uveitis, which renders him functionally blind, Arson Squad never left his side. Arson Squad leads his pal around from their run-in shed to the feed bucket to the waterer. He stays with him day and night, providing the comforting presence that makes life much better for his "brother." He looks after his paddock mate selflessly; he leaves no gelding behind. Lexington Fire Department Fire Station No. 5 was proud to sponsor Arson Squad after hearing how he cares for his brother. His halter from his racing days hangs in our communication room at the station.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Arson Squad's career ended prematurely when he was injured in a training accident on New Year's Eve in 2011 at Gulfstream Park. Owner Samantha Siegel sent him to Dr. Larry Bramlage at Rood & Riddle Equine Hospital, where the 9-year-old gelding survived extensive surgery. We were thrilled when, with Samantha's wholehearted enthusiasm, a recovering Arson Squad arrived at the farm about a month later.

Awesome Gem

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Terry Finley, master of the West Point Thoroughbred partnerships, reached a zenith as an owner in racing on May 6, 2017, when Always Dreaming won the Kentucky Derby. West Point owned an interest in the colt, having purchased a piece of the horse earlier that winter from principal owner Vinnie Viola, whom Finley has known for years, dating to his West Point days.

The day after Always Dreaming's win, Finley traveled 75 miles to Old Friends with a number of family members to see one of his former stable stars, Awesome Gem, who had been retired to Old Friends just four weeks earlier. Awesome Gem was a favorite of Finley and his group of owners for a lot of reasons.

Awesome Gem had been purchased by Finley for $150,000 at a 2-year-olds in training sale in California and was trained by Craig Dollase. He was a bit of a hard-luck horse early in his career, with numerous bad trips and several illnesses that set him back, but he was always a hard-trying horse, although often strong-willed and eccentric. While he was bought as a juvenile, he did not race at 2 and won 2 of 6 starts at 3. But when he got good, he was an owner's dream – running 46 times over the next six seasons and earning $2.88 million. He won a stakes race in five different seasons, with his best win coming in the Grade 1 Hollywood Gold Cup.

After his racing career was over, Awesome Gem began retraining for a second career off the track, but his feisty temperament got in the way, so it was decided to give him a permanent retirement home, at Old Friends.

– MARK SIMON

Michael Says: Awesome Gem is perhaps the most appropriately named horse at Old Friends. He's awesome and a gem. Good looking. Congenial. Cooperative. Friendly. And what a campaigner! Four Breeders' Cup appearances. Like trainer Craig Dollase told The Blood-Horse, "This horse can run over anything – synthetic, grass, mud, you name it. He's like fine wine. He's just getting better with age." That's still the case.

HORSE TALK

TERRY FINLEY, WEST POINT THOROUGHBREDS, OWNER

Awesome Gem, a Grade 1 winner and earner of more than $2.8 million, was a globetrotting popular fan favorite who was campaigned by West Point Thoroughbreds. Trained by Craig Dollase, he competed in four Breeders' Cups and won or placed in 22 graded stakes. A late bloomer, like many of Awesome Again's progeny, "The Gemster" didn't debut until age 3. However, he became one of the most endearing horses in the country during his six-year racing career. In 2010, Awesome Gem captured his first Grade 1 at age 7 in the Hollywood Gold Cup before embarking upon a remarkable 8-year-old campaign. In 2011, the gutsy veteran won both the Lone Star Park Handicap (G3) and Longacres Mile (G3) and was second in the Goodwood (G1) and Cornhusker Handicap (G3). Among his other accomplishments are wins in the Hawthorne Gold Cup (G2), San Fernando Stakes (G2), Lone Star Park Handicap (G3), and Berkeley Handicap (G3). He also placed in the Breeders' Cup Classic (G1), Pacific Classic (G1), Eddie Read (G1), New Orleans Handicap (G2), San Antonio Handicap (G2), San Diego Handicap (G2), Sir Beaufort (G3), All American (G3), and Longacres Mile (G3) twice. He was first, second, or third in 33 of his 52 starts.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Terry Finley, president of West Point Thoroughbreds, made the right call when he decided to retire the then-9-year-old gelding. Awesome Gem had done so much, including winning the Hollywood Gold Cup, when, at age 7, he defeated fellow Old Friends retiree Rail Trip. West Point Thoroughbreds has been so supportive of many aftercare organizations, including Old Friends, that we were happy to become a showplace for this magnificent athlete.

Big Blue Nation

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Big Blue Nation was like thousands of runners from the crop of 2009 – he raced in cheap claiming races. And like many, he started his career with some promising performances.

Bred by the prominent Kentucky stallion operation WinStar Farm, Big Blue Nation was sold for $55,000 as a yearling in Kentucky, then resold as a 2-year-old in training in Florida for $85,000.

A son of Bluegrass Cat trained by Todd Pletcher, Big Blue Nation won first time out at Churchill Downs as a juvenile, and his connections were excited enough to run him back in Saratoga's Grade 1 Hopeful Stakes. He finished third that day, six lengths ahead of future champion and Kentucky Derby-Preakness winner I'll Have Another, a performance that would highlight his career. He was unable to win again until two years after his career debut, and by the middle of his 4-year-old season he had become a regular in claiming races.

Still, Big Blue Nation showed plenty of gameness and was durable, running 65 times over seven seasons and earning the tidy sum of $240,068. His soundness and grit made him attractive to owners, which is no doubt why he was claimed eight times throughout his career. Big Blue Nation was retired during his 8-year-old season and came to Old Friends in September 2018.

– MARK SIMON

Michael says: When we were notified that Big Blue Nation could retire, I contacted my good friend Daniel Harrison at Country Boy Brewing, the terrific Georgetown brewery, who immediately agreed to sponsor Big Blue Nation. It was a marketing marriage made in heaven. Since his arrival, many UK fans have come here to pay their respects to another great athlete carrying the big blue colors.

HORSE TALK

KAITLYN CAWLEY, OWNER

In his racing days, Big Blue Nation was the definition of a war horse, earning more than $240,000 while making 65 starts. When his racing days were over, he had wonderful friends looking out for him who ensured his safe retirement. Originally, I had plans for BBN to have a second career as a show horse, but unfortunately previous racing injuries prevented that from happening. Thankfully, Old Friends welcomed him with open arms. What BBN lacks in size, he makes up for with his personality. He is as sweet as can be, but has just enough sass to keep things interesting. He is never one to turn down a treat, especially peppermints. He loves when you play with his tongue, and he frequently just lets his tongue hang out. He is truly one of a kind, and it's a pleasure to know and love him.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Sometimes it's all in a name. I knew visitors, especially those decked out in UK blue, would love to see Big Blue Nation in person and realize he's going to have a great retirement.

Cajun Beat

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Tucked away in a pasture way off the visitor's tour is a nearly black gelding with just the tiniest hint of white on his forehead. He's a bit plain and quite unassuming in attitude. Looking at him, one would never suspect he had once been one of America's fastest racehorses.

Cajun Beat was bred to be fleet, and that he was – but first there were some problems to solve. Purchased privately as a yearling by Padua Stables, the son of Grand Slam proved a high-strung and at times aggressive youngster whose fragile nerves compromised his early career. On the track in the mornings, he would buck, bolt, and generally work himself into a frenzy before returning to the barn a lathered mess. After he finished last in his Delaware Park debut, well beaten in a field of future claimers, Cajun's handlers had enough of his nonsense. They gelded the well-bred colt and sent him off to trainer Cam Gambolati, for whom he quickly settled down. By the end of his sophomore season, Cajun Beat had climbed racing's mountaintop with a sizzling 1:07.95 victory in the Breeders' Cup Sprint at Santa Anita while trained by Steve Margolis.

He won graded stakes in California, Kentucky, and Florida before suffering a serious ankle injury in the 2005 Commonwealth Sprint Cup at Keeneland. Even with time and the best of care, Cajun Beat would not be able to race again. He was sent home and put in a paddock with Padua's Pride, a runner of little racetrack merit but a former world record-priced $4.5 million weanling. In 2016, the two best pals arrived at Old Friends.

– MARY SIMON

Michael says: For some reason, we've attracted several winners of the Breeders' Cup Sprint, including Precisionist, Gulch, and Amazombie. And we were really happy to add Padua Stables' great sprinter to our list.

SATISH SANAN, PADUA STABLES, OWNER

Cajun Beat was a very special horse – amongst the very best I owned. He was tough when he raced and kind when he was in the barn. His win in the Breeders' Cup Sprint at Santa Anita was very, very special. He left an indelible mark in horse racing history.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Satish Sanan of Padua Stables contacted us about retiring Cajun Beat when he was downsizing his stable. The one condition is that we had to take Cajun Beat's buddy Padua's Pride with him. We were more than happy to comply, and the Padua pair are still best friends.

Diversify

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Rick Violette developed a lot of good horses in his career, and one of his best, Diversify, came at the very end of it. Violette, president for a decade of the New York Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association, had long been a champion of racehorse rights, so it's fitting that the best horse late in his career would wind up at the best after-care facility in the country.

A New York-bred by Bellamy Road, Diversify began his career in statebred company but finished it as one of the top older horses in the country. In 2017 at age 4, the speedy gelding went gate to wire in the Grade 1 Jockey Club Gold Cup, then followed up with a victory in the Grade 1 Clark Handicap. At 5, he captured the Grade 1 Whitney and Grade 2 Suburban, and for a time was considered a leading contender for the Breeders' Cup Classic, a race he ultimately had to miss.

Violette succumbed to a long battle with cancer in October 2018, and Diversify never raced again. When owners Ralph and Lauren Evans accepted New York-bred horse of the year honors for Diversify five months later from the New York Breeders Association, they gave all the credit to Violette.

Diversify, who suffered a career-ending suspensory injury while preparing for a 6-year-old campaign, arrived at Old Friends in June 2019.

— MARK SIMON

Michael says: I was lucky enough to see Diversify win the 2018 Whitney Stakes for owners Ralph and Lauren Evans and trainer Richard Violette at Saratoga. The New York-bred gelding's photograph in the winner's circle is crowned by a beautiful rainbow.

HORSE TALK

RALPH EVANS, OWNER

It is a rare occurrence when a multiple graded stakes winner is found in the barn of small owners such as the Evans family. Diversify was such a horse. He was talented, reliable, and consistent. His connections knew he would give his best effort each time he stepped on the track. Diversify provided a magical journey for us, but, more importantly, he came along when the entire barn of trainer Rick Violette needed a boost. For that we are grateful.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Jonathan Thomas, who assumed the training duty for Rick Violette's stable after Rick's death, called me when Diversify suffered a minor injury and the owners decided to retire him. I was thrilled. Since then, Diversify has settled in and everyone associated with him has been great, especially Mr. Evans, who continues to very generously support his great Grade 1 winner.

Einstein

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

The dark bay greeted passersby from his stall in Old Friends's main barn, his matinee idol head bobbing up and down, his large, expressive eyes sparkling at the sight of anyone with a bucket of carrots in hand. He makes his pleasure known in no uncertain terms. This horse understands exactly who he is and acts the part with gusto. His outsized personality, his supreme confidence, his simmering energy take up a lot of space.

Einstein thinks he's special, and he's right. The dark bay beauty – a 2.0 version of the Black Stallion – was sired by 1985 Horse of the Year Spend a Buck on one of his dual hemisphere sire duties in Brazil, and his dam was a Brazilian champion named Gay Charm. He never raced in his homeland, but was instead sold for export to the United States, where he took the racing world by storm between 2006 and 2009. In that time frame, Einstein captured five Grade 1 races on grass and synthetic surfaces and was a Grade 2 winner on dirt.

When Einstein's then-owners went to prison for fraud, the Santa Anita Handicap and two-time Woodford Reserve Turf Classic winner was purchased in the fall of 2009 by Frank Stronach, largely as a stallion prospect. His career ended two months later with 11 victories and earnings just shy of $3 million. The three-time Eclipse Award finalist headed off to Stronach's Adena Springs Farm in Kentucky.

Spend a Buck sons did not make successful sires, and Einstein was no exception. While not a total bust, he scored no home runs as he moved from Kentucky to Canada to California. In March 2019, he was pensioned to Old Friends, joining fellow Adena all-stars Alphabet Soup and Touch Gold. Soon after his arrival, a large mass was found in an undescended testicle, and at Park Equine Hospital a 10-pound tumor was removed, surgery that also necessitated castration.

He is currently a favorite of Old Friends's John Bradley and is financially supported by The Stronach Group.

Michael says: It doesn't take a genius to appreciate Einstein. The Brazilian-bred son of Spend a Buck is a multiple stakes winner whose larger-than-life personality makes him a favorite of everyone at the farm and the thousands of visitors who see him every year.

HORSE TALK

JOHN BRADLEY, OLD FRIENDS GROOM

The day Michael broke the news that this tall, black stallion was going to become a resident of Old Friends, I was overcome with joy. It only took seconds for me to realize I was a member of a staff that was going to provide the daily care for my absolute favorite racehorse of all time. The day Einstein arrived, I thanked him for helping me cash many, many tickets during his brilliant career. I then told him, "Now, I work for you!" Einstein has it all. Superior intelligence (similar to his namesake), the competitive spirit all great athletes possess, combined with the handsome physique of a male model. It takes time for most new retirees to settle in, a transition period until they realize their working days are behind them. Now, instead of competing for graded stakes wins, his focus is on the carrot buckets that are a part of the daily tours. With his sensible demeanor and a willing desire to interact with visitors, he still knows how to finish first. Remember, he was named Einstein for a reason!

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Adena Springs has been great at allowing Old Friends to care for its retired stallions. Touch Gold, Alphabet Soup, and, now, Einstein. After a star-studded career under the intelligent, compassionate care of trainer Helen Pitts-Blasi, he arrived at Old Friends with a great résumé and a problem, a tumor. But, after an astute diagnosis by Dr. Bryan Walldridge and the surgical skill of Dr. Rhodes Bell, both of Park Equine, the tumor has been removed, and we anticipate a long and joyful retirement for this magnificent athlete.

Euronfire

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Euronfire showed ability early on, but at age 4 fell victim to an outbreak of equine herpesvirus on the backstretch of Hawthorne Racecourse. She was lucky to survive the neurological disease, but her racing career was over.

The daughter of Eurosilver had been owned by a 10-person syndicate, and a year and a half after her traumatic disease she was entered in the January 2014 Keeneland sale as a broodmare prospect. Patti Davis, who worked in public relations in Chicago and was the smallest shareholder of the group, did not want to see her become a broodmare following her EHV-1 ordeal. Deciding that she had earned the right to be retired with dignity, Davis became the winning bidder at $5,500, after which she had the stipulation placed on her Jockey Club papers that Euronfire could never be used for future racing or breeding purposes. She was then sent to New Vocations aftercare facility to see if she could launch a second career.

When that failed to work out, Davis sent her beloved mare to Old Friends to live the good life.

— MARK SIMON

Michael says: Euronfire did not have a lot of good luck during her racing career. She must have saved it all up for her retirement.

PATTI DAVIS, OWNER

Euronfire says: “I had barely turned two years old when this woman came up to me in my paddock and whispered, ‘I’ll always have your back.’ I didn’t know what she meant then, but I sure do now. She was one of my owners in a syndicate, and she always visited me at the track. Even when I fell ill from equine herpesvirus and was retired, she bought me at a Keeneland auction. She first tried to find me a home with New Vocations, but I was too sick to have a ‘second job.’ Old Friends took me in and she still visits me often, never failing to bring the overripe red pears that have always been my favorite treat. I let her share them with my paddock-mates. I’m the luckiest retiree on the farm because she truly ‘has my back.’”

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Patti Davis, a long-time supporter of Old Friends, needed a place for her gorgeous chestnut mare, and how could we refuse? Patti was a big fan of Old Friends long before Euronfire’s arrival. And, she visits every year to see her horse and polish many of the Bobby Frankel trophies that the Hall of Fame trainer donated to Old Friends. Patti and Euronfire make a fabulous duo.

Eye of the Tiger

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Through the years, Old Friends has had a fair number of Kentucky Derby competitors among its retirees. One of the more recent is Eye of the Tiger, who distinguished himself in 2003 with a creditable fifth-place finish, less than five lengths behind winner Funny Cide.

Eye of the Tiger was bred in Kentucky by John Gunther, who would later earn an Eclipse Award as America's top breeder when his program produced 2018 Triple Crown winner Justify.

Eye of the Tiger's own pedigree was Gunther, top to bottom, solid but somewhat unusual. Being by Cure the Blues's stakes-winning son American Chance, he represented the increasingly rare Hail to Reason male line, and had no inbreeding through five generations, with not a spritz of the omnipresent Northern Dancer and Mr. Prospector to be found – another genetic rarity these days.

Eye of the Tiger raced for his breeder, and became a multiple graded stakes winner of $535,679, with victories in the Grade 3 Affirmed Handicap and the Grade 2 Washington Park Handicap. Even so, the good-looking, well-balanced bay may have been underrated as a racehorse; during a four-season career in which he was raced sparingly, he recorded nine 100-plus Beyer Speed Figures in distances from 6 1/2 furlongs to 1 1/4 miles.

At Gunther's Glennwood Farm in Versailles, Ky., he eventually sired just 27 foals in five crops, 13 of whom found winner's circles. He was pensioned in 2016 and sent to Old Friends in June of 2018.

– MARY SIMON

Michael says: Eye of the Tiger lives in a spacious paddock, previously occupied by Marquetry, outside my front door. He's in front, Silver Charm's in back. Does it get any better than that? He doesn't beg for carrots or come when he's asked, but if you give him some time and space, he'll eventually agree to stop by. But only on his terms.

TANYA GUNTHER, BREEDER AND OWNER

In an industry full of hopes and dreams, we will forever be indebted to Eye of the Tiger for providing us with one of those pivotal moments of inspiration. A colt from an unfashionable sire line out of an unraced mare, he came from humble beginnings indeed! He allowed us to dream big for a moment, to believe that even small breeders might accomplish something extraordinary. The memory of his 2003 Kentucky Derby performance (when he finished fifth) remains vivid in our minds. There was an incredible, almost-palpable tension in the air that day. As the starting gates flew open and horses stampeded past the stands, the crowd's excitement erupted in a mighty roar that rocked the rafters. Our eyes searched frantically for a glimpse of our familiar silks and cheers exploded as our colors were spotted. Maroon and gray – those are our silks! A brave run, a tremendous thrill – thank you Eye of the Tiger!

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

When Tanya Gunther called to ask if we'd be able to retire Eye of the Tiger, everyone at Old Friends was excited. But it took a long time to find the proper space for him. John and Tanya Gunther, the legendary breeders of Triple Crown winner Justify, thought he was getting too excited around their mares and were willing to part with him. They support him with dollars and affection.

Game On Dude

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Game On Dude had 34 starts over the course of five racing seasons and won nearly half of them, so there are plenty of memories to take away from his career, but for me, nothing was better than when Game On Dude won the Santa Anita Handicap in 2014 to become the first horse to win that storied race three times.

Game On Dude was clearly in the twilight of his career at that point. He was 7 and had lost three straight races, beginning with a crushing loss in the 2013 Breeders' Cup Classic that cost him titles as champion older horse and Horse of the Year, awards for which he was the front-runner entering that day.

Going back to the 2012 Californian, Game On Dude had been favored in 14 straight races and was odds-on in seven of those races. But having lost three straight, and with Mucho Macho Man and Will Take Charge – the one-two finishers from the previous fall's Breeders' Cup Classic – in the Big Cap, Game On Dude was the distant third choice at 7-2.

But the old boy reached back for one last hurrah. He used his wicked speed, the kind he could carry a distance, to run his rivals off their feet – six furlongs in 1:09.39, a mile in 1:32.57. And he kept on going. It might have been his finest race.

– JAY PRIVMAN

Michael says: A few days after Bob Baffert decided to send Game On Dude to Old Friends, we received a wonderful card from Jill. “He is going to steal your heart,” it read. He has ... in spades. And he came to us in exceptional condition. He is the kindest, warmest, friendliest Thoroughbred who's ever called Old Friends home.

JILL BAFFERT, WIFE OF TRAINER BOB BAFFERT

Game On Dude brought so much joy to our lives, not only with his dazzling performances on the track, but he is one of the kindest, most loving, and noble horses I've ever been around. Although I knew it was time for him to move on to the next chapter of his life, I wasn't ready to let him go. None of us were. There were many wonderful options to consider in deciding where Dude would live out his retirement, but ultimately we knew he would be happiest surrounded by many people who would give him the same love and attention he had come to know. We are grateful to Old Friends – to the volunteers who selflessly give their time and energy, to the fans who come by the busload to honor their heroes, and to everyone who makes it possible for these beautiful animals to live their lives with dignity and respect.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Jill Baffert sent us an e-mail just after Game On Dude's owners decided to retire him and was asking about our facility. We were thrilled to be in the running for the future Hall of Famer. After several phone calls from Bob – many of which resembled an IRS audit – Joe Torre, Bernie Schiappa, Debbie Lanni, and Mercedes Stables decided to send him to Old Friends. We were overjoyed.

Gorgeous George

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Everyone likes little horses, especially children. While most adult racing fans are familiar with Silver Charm and his Hall of Fame racing exploits, kids care nothing about that. But when they see the miniature Little Silver Charm, they fall in love. He doesn't need a race record to be adored.

So when Old Friends had a chance to get another little guy, this one a donkey, they jumped at it. That's the, uh, short version of how Gorgeous George came to Old Friends. The longer version is that George was owned for years by Bill Crump, father of Old Friends employee James Crump, and when Bill died, James was looking for a home for the mini donkey. Crump approached Michael Blowen about the possibility of taking him and the answer was a definitive yes. When George arrived, he got a new name from Old Friends manager Tim Wilson, who proclaimed him "gorgeous" – proving that adults also like little horses ... and donkeys.

George was paddocked next to Alphabet Soup, and the two took an immediate liking to one another. Soon, they were moved into the same pasture and stall, when in the barn. The two are now inseparable, proving that even grown-up horses like little horses ... and donkeys.

– MARK SIMON

Michael says: To me, Gorgeous George and Alphabet Soup look like the stars of an all-animal road production of "Man of La Mancha." Don Quixote and Sancho Panza. And, as quixotic as that might appear, they are inseparable.

HORSE TALK

JAMES CRUMP, OWNER, AND RICKCAPONE, AUTHOR

Prior to arriving at Old Friends, our little donkey had always been called George – just George. Then, Old Friends farm manager, Tim Wilson, noticed something that changed everything. One day, Tim said something to the effect, "He's just gorgeous. Look at them ears. Look at him. Women are just going to fall in love with him. He's just absolutely gorgeous. That's what [he] should be – Gorgeous George!" Everyone loved the name, and while he's still called George for short, that's how his official, full name became Gorgeous George.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

One of our most valuable friends, James Crump, who works tirelessly taking care of all of our retirees, inherited Gorgeous George when James's father, Bill Crump, unexpectedly passed away. When GG needed a home, we were only glad to take him in. After all, if Eldaafer loved his goat Yahoo, some of our retirees would certainly take a liking to a cute Sicilian donkey. And it happened. Instantaneously. And his pal became none other than 1996 Breeders' Cup Classic winner Alphabet Soup. Now, they're inseparable.

Green Mask

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

In the summer of 2017, it was looking like the Breeders' Cup Turf Sprint might go through Green Mask. Triple-digit Beyer Speed Figures were the norm in his form, topped by a grandiose 111 for a dominant win in the Troy Handicap that August at Saratoga. "I love this horse," said Michael Blowen, president of Old Friends Equine. "I was going to single him in the Breeders' Cup in the pick threes."

Green Mask's standout performance in the Troy came following victories in the Grade 2 Highlander in July at Woodbine – for which he earned a Beyer of 110 – and the Turf Sprint in May at Churchill Downs – good for a Beyer of 102. Green Mask even impressed in defeat, finishing a half-length behind Disco Partner when second in the Grade 3 Jaipur at Belmont Park. The six-furlong turf tilt went in a North American-record 1:05.67.

It was a dream season. But in September, Green Mask sustained a fractured sesamoid in his left foreleg during a morning workout, and the injury proved career-ending. Green Mask went through a long road to recovery, but he has faced it like a champ. Blowen said the millionaire had the "hardware" – such as screws that had aided healing – removed from the injury site and that his disposition has served him well.

"He's very, very smart," said Blowen.

Green Mask was attended to by the dotting medical staff at Park Equine Hospital in Kentucky, some of whom even donned hats that read "Green Mask." The horse has recovered and was sent to Old Friends in the summer of 2018, and Blowen looks for the horse to be popular with visitors at the Old Friends Dream Chase facility in Georgetown, Ky.

– MARY RAMPELLINI

Michael says: Just watching Green Mask in the paddock is a constant reminder of the beauty and personality of a younger Thoroughbred who just seems to adore life. He represents the courage, patience, and intelligence that allowed him to recover from the many months of rehabilitation. He's a great role model for the rest of us who aren't quite as tough.

BRAD COX, TRAINER

When we got Green Mask and Sheikh Abdullah Almaddah's horses, I was extremely excited as I followed the horse closely through his career. I watched him race and always liked his come-from-behind style of running. He was a pleasure to be around, and he was a professional on the track and in the barn. I am truly grateful for Old Friends to have taken in Green Mask after his injury. Green Mask definitely paid for his retirement. Tessa Bisha, Dustin Dugas, Rick Giannini, and Jorge Abrego all were instrumental in his success on the track. Lorita Lindemann helped a lot with his retirement. We were all devastated with his injury but are grateful he was able to be saved.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Brad Cox contacted Old Friends about Green Mask while his speedster was recovering from surgery for his shattered foreleg. After Dr. Dean Richardson of New Bolton Center implanted a metal plate and more than 20 screws to stabilize the bone, Green Mask was sent to Dell Ridge Farm for recovery. After a few months under their watchful care, the gelding came to Old Friends.

Since then, he's become a symbol of how much so many people in racing adore these athletes. From Dr. Bryan Walldridge, who supervised his recovery at Park Equine Clinic; to KESMARC, the state-of-the-art rehabilitation facility that provided extra care through its hyperbaric chamber; to Sallee Vans and Brook Ledge Horse Transport for their services; to Carole, Antonio, and Tim, and everyone else at Old Friends – all of them provided everything without charge. Now, with his plate and screws removed and fully healed, he gets to show off his energetic spirit to all of his fans.

Hogy

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Hogy was a popular racehorse for both fans and owners for several important reasons: He was very good and he raced for a long time. Those two qualities are not often seen in tandem these days, what with good young horses being whisked off to stud at the earliest convenience. But Hogy, being a gelding, was meant to race, and that he did – with zeal. The son of Offlee Wild made 55 starts over nine seasons, from ages 2 to 10, winning 19 of them and finishing in the money another 20 times, while earning $1,339,782. Hogy captured nine stakes and placed in 12 others while racing at 17 different racetracks, primarily in the Midwest, though he ventured to both coasts at various points in his career. He had six different owners. His final owner, Michael Hui, boldly claimed him for $80,000 at age 8 from a race at Saratoga. Hogy made Hui and trainer Mike Maker look pretty smart, because in his first start for them he scored in the Grade 3, $400,000 Kentucky Downs Turf Sprint Stakes, earning $235,600 in the process. He would win two additional stakes for Hui and returned a total of $443,455 on that initial $80,000 investment. Hogy was retired from racing during the winter of 2019 and in June was sent Old Friends to live out a well-deserved, hard-earned retirement.

– MARK SIMON

Michael says: Who wouldn't love Hogy? I only saw him run twice; the best was when he won the Kentucky Downs Turf Sprint in 2017. He was so small, he seemed to hide behind his competition, but, when it came to putting his nose on the wire, he was bigger than them all. In 55 starts, he was only out of the money 16 times, with 19 wins, 13 places, 7 shows, and lifetime earnings of $1,339,782. Not bad for a gelding who was astutely claimed by Michael Hui and similarly trained by Mike Maker.

HORSE TALK

MICHAEL HUI, OWNER

I had no clue what Hogy would come to mean to me when the decision was made to claim him at Saratoga in August 2017. He was just another possible claim when I first spotted him running past my horse Shadow Rock at Sam Houston in early 2017. Little did I realize I would be on the ride of my horse-owning life. From the day I asked trainer Mike Maker, “Does anyone claim an 8-year old horse for $80,000?” to the day this past summer when I followed his trailer to Old Friends, Hogy was simply a guy that loved his job. When he could view the track, his eyes grew wider with excitement; he knew it was his turn. I had him for 11 starts during that period. Each one not only brought me to appreciate Hogy as a competitor, but more importantly it exposed me to so many people in our sport, Each of whom had their own Hogy story. Hogy meant a lot so many people. He is truly a treasure. Now we all can visit him at Old Friends.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

When owner Michael Hui asked us to take Hogy, I was thrilled. Who wouldn't be? He's one of the only Old Friends retirees that I made money on, cashing an $18 ticket when Hogy won the Hanshin Cup at Arlington Park in 2013. Bred by Dr. John Little, the gelded son of Offlee Wild is just a lot of fun to be around and has completely bonded with Soi Phet. What a pair.

Ivan Fallunovalot

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

In previews of upcoming stakes at Oaklawn Park, whenever Ivan Fallunovalot was among the entries, the track's publicity department would hail the gelding as "one of the best claims in Oaklawn Park history."

It's easy to see why. In March 2014, the then 3-year-old Texas-bred son of Valid Expectations was claimed by trainer Tom Howard for owner Lewis Mathews Jr. for $25,000 at the Hot Springs, Ark., track. He went on to earn $955,135 for Mathews over the next four years, winning 13 of his 23 starts. Ivan Fallunovalot won eight black-type races for his new owner, including the David M. Vance Stakes at Remington Park four straight years and the King Cotton Stakes at Oaklawn twice. The most prestigious victory for the sprint specialist came in the Grade 3 Frank J. De Francis Memorial at Laurel Park in 2016. The year before, he had contested the Grade 1 Breeders' Cup Sprint at Keeneland, though he finished off the board.

In his final career start, Ivan Fallunovalot ran fifth in the Grade 3 Count Fleet Sprint Handicap at Oaklawn, earning $12,000 and pushing him past the $1 million mark in earnings. He became only the third Texas-bred to earn seven figures, joining Groovy and Texas Chrome. He was retired from racing that summer and arrived at Old Friends in September 2018.

— MARK SIMON

Michael says: If everyone in racing loved their horses as much as Lewis E. Mathews of Bismarck, Ark., the sport would be overflowing with new owners. He not only supports Ivan with donations, he stops by the farm to feed him carrots when he's in Kentucky. For those who appreciate cosmic coincidences, the day after Lewis's last visit, he was in the winner's circle at Churchill Downs. Ivan loves to frolic with his paddock pals and get his picture taken by award-winning photographer Barbara D. Livingston. He adores attention.

HORSE TALK

LEWIS MATHEWS JR., OWNER

Ivan Fallunovalot was an amazing racehorse and quickly became a fan favorite racing in Arkansas, Texas, and Oklahoma. From 2014 until 2018, he went from being a $25,000 claimer to a racing millionaire, even competing in the Breeders' Cup Sprint in 2015. One reason he had so many fans is his funny, unique name. It sounds like "I've been falling off a lot." His breeder came up with this name as a joke, but his racing career was no joke. One thing that most fans did not know about him was his temperament. At the stables, he was as gentle as a kitten. Like a kitten, he napped and rested a lot and really took care of himself. He loved attention and peppermints. However, when race day arrived it was "game on" and he turned into a beast. He knew his job and loved it. When he went to the track for morning workouts, he bucked and kicked like a young colt even in his later years. Owning Ivan was like living a dream, and I am so glad he will spend his remaining years at Old Friends.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Al Stall Jr., trainer of Blame and other superstars, called me about Ivan last year, and I couldn't wait to find a spot for him at Old Friends. He's the King of Oklahoma with four wins in the David M. Vance Stakes at Remington Park and is an Oaklawn Park favorite, with back-to-back victories in the King Cotton Stakes there. Al and Lewis Mathews made it an easy transition for the great veteran's retirement.

Joey P

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Joey P. was something of a local celebrity in his home state of New Jersey. That's because he's a rare breed: A statebred who earned more than $1 million during his racing career. The list of seven-figure earners among New Jersey-breds is relatively short – only eight have reached that figure, led by champion filly Open Mind, with $1,844,372. To make his achievement even more locally significant, just two of those New Jersey-bred millionaires were sired by stallions who actually stood in the state. Joey P. is by Close Up, a son of Capote who stands in New Jersey.

Bred and raced his entire career by John Petrini, Joey P. had class and was sound, racing for eight years. He won 18 times and ran second in 10 races, while earning $1,081,167. Along the way, Joey P. scored in 12 stakes, including the Grade 3 Jersey Shore Breeders' Cup at Monmouth Park at age 3 while winning his fifth straight race to begin his racing career. Thirty-two of his 48 starts came at Monmouth in New Jersey.

When Joey P. was retired from the track in 2011, he first went to Second Call Thoroughbred Adoption and Placement in New Jersey, but when a second career was no longer in the cards, he was sent to Old Friends in January 2018.

– MARK SIMON

Michael says: Joey P. is a New Jersey superstar, and we're extremely grateful to all his connections, particularly Laurie Lane of Second Call, for trusting us with his retirement. Laurie should be commended because it's very rare that we receive such detailed medical records and a generous financial endowment with our retirees. He's already a big hit on the tours but prefers the company of his equine pals.

TATIANA VERENICIN-CHAN, THOROUGHBRED ADOPTION AND PLACEMENT

There are a chosen few, in this case a Thoroughbred, who knew his path before any of us knew who he would be. As a foal, he was feisty and determined. As an athlete, he won more than $1 million, with at least one win in every one of his eight seasons of racing. According to his former trainers, he was the biggest horse in the barn – 17-plus hands of agility, quick on his feet, and very balanced for his size. I guess you could call him a freak of nature. A once-in-a-lifetime horse. And, most recently, due to a relationship formed between Second Call Thoroughbred Adoption and Placement and Old Friends, he is a forever-homed retiree. His name is Joey P. A New Jersey-bred who not only ignited the racetrack during his racing days, but continues to leave an impression on those who know him. Joey P has aged via the calendar. Now 17 years old, he continues to walk with a swagger and an air of dignity. Joey P. is the boss of his pasture and his Old Friends pasture mates. Joey P. is and will always be confident, elegant, proud, a leader, and a winner. Period.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Joey P. was retired from the track for nearly seven years when Laurie Lane contacted Old Friends. I had seen Joey P. race and was thrilled that Second Call would consider Old Friends for his new residence. He not only made room for another deserving Thoroughbred in New Jersey, he added a new star to our star-studded roster.

Little Mike

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Little Mike is the boss. Just ask Game On Dude.

Dude and Mike are paddock mates, a great pairing for visitors, who get the opportunity see the collective earners of more than $10 million and 21 graded stakes wins.

Dude outearned Mike almost 2 to 1, but apparently Mike never got the memo, because he rules the paddock. If you try to give Dude a carrot, Mike is there trying to prevent any such act of kindness. They're for him.

This feeling of privilege was earned by Mike on the track, where he was beloved and doted on by his owner-breeder-trainer, Mike Vaccarezza. He outran his pedigree by miles. His sire, the unraced and obscure Spanish Steps, sired just five stakes winners in the United States from more than 300 foals, and has since been shipped off to stand in Saudi Arabia. But Little Mike is the stuff owners and breeders dream about – hitting it big, especially with a modestly bred homebred. Little Mike did that. The gelding took his owner on a joyous ride across the country to numerous top races, culminating in a victory in the Breeders' Cup Turf at Santa Anita that almost earned him a championship turf title.

Little Mike earned a good retirement, and has that at Old Friends, romping around a paddock with another multimillionaire. And the competitive Little Mike is always trying to show Dude he's still got it.

– MARK SIMON

Michael Says: I thought I was Little Mike. I guess now I'm Littler Mike. Who wouldn't fall in love with this gorgeous athlete who outran his pedigree and everything else that anyone threw at him? I still remember his win in the Breeders' Cup, when he was sent off at long odds and with very little respect. He also didn't get much respect from the Eclipse Award voters. I think he's the only horse to win the Breeders' Cup Turf, Arlington Million, and Woodford Reserve Turf Classic in the same year and not win the Eclipse. But he gets all the respect he'll ever need at Old Friends.

HORSE TALK

CARLO VACCAREZZA, OWNER

One of the toughest days of my life was when my two boys, Nick and Mike, loaded you for your voyage to Old Friends for your well-deserved retirement. I decided to travel to Old Friends and wait for you upon your arrival and unload you from the van for the last time. This is the least I can do after all you have done for me and my family. Little Mike, you are a dream of a lifetime in a lifetime of dreams. So many things I can say about you. You are brave. You never quit. You always give 1,000 percent. You compete at the highest level and even in defeat you never give up. But, the most fitting words that I can say are, "I love you," and you will always be "my champ."

RAMON DOMINGUEZ, JOCKEY

It was an honor to have been given the opportunity to ride a horse like Little Mike. He was a unique, gentle horse who gave me many satisfactions, and one who ran a top race every time, even against the odds, as he did when he won the 2012 Breeders' Cup Turf showing a different running style at a distance that was believed to be beyond his reach. He is the horse we all dream of coming in contact with.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Years ago, Little Mike's owner-trainer, Carlo Vaccarezza, called me about retiring the multiple graded stakes winner. He had suffered an injury. Then, I didn't hear anything for more than two years. Carlo, after a lot of time, patience, and money, brought him back to the track. He didn't win. A few weeks later, Little Mike came to Old Friends.

Miss Hooligan

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Miss Hooligan never won a race and never produced a foal, but her place at Old Friends is golden for one simple reason: Her genetic connection to Old Friends is strong and undeniable. The 14-year-old is a granddaughter of two well-known stallions memorialized in the farm cemetery – the much-beloved turf champion Sunshine Forever, who passed on in 2014, and long-ago American Horse of the Year Criminal Type, who sadly died just prior to his slated 2005 arrival.

A dark bay foaled in Kentucky in 2005, Miss Hooligan was by Criminal Type's graded stakes-winning son Hoolie, from a sturdy bottom line that traced eight generations to 1904-05 American champion filly Court Dress. Miss Hooligan, however, earned just $2,325 while placing but once in 11 starts at 2 and 3. On the heels of that far-from-illustrious racetrack career, she found herself briefly employed as a therapy horse at Boys and Girls Haven near Louisville, Ky. When that gig was up, her relocation to Old Friends was facilitated by longtime supporters Tim Ford and Rick Capone, along with founder Michael Blowen. For the past decade, Miss Hooligan has roamed a back pasture as one of the farm's honored "Old Girlfriends."

HORSE TALK

RICK CAPONE, CO-OWNER

I've had many memorable moments with Miss Hooligan, but there is one I've never told before. It was a cool, misty morning, and I was driving a golf cart down the lane between paddocks to feed breakfast to the mares at the back of the farm. Suddenly, Fred, a friend who was riding with me, pointed and said, "Look at that." I turned and looked up to my left, and there about 30 yards away on the crown of the paddock coming out of the mist in ghostly fashion was Miss Hooligan. She was running fast, almost gliding over the ground, trying to keep up with the golf cart to beat us to the feed buckets. It was one of the most beautiful things I ever saw and a memory I'll never forget.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Sometimes nepotism pays off. Miss Hooligan had 11 starts with no wins, one second, and lifetime earnings of $2,325. But she was a granddaughter of my favorite horses, Sunshine Forever, the first horse returned to Old Friends through the generous cooperation of the Japanese Blood-horse Breeders' Association. Rick Capone and Tim Ford combined their resources and purchased Miss Hooligan from Boys and Girls Haven, a facility outside Louisville. She's been living at Old Friends for more than nine years.

Nicanor

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

It would be understandable if Nicanor had a bit of an attitude, if conceit or testing boundaries was a component of his character. He is, after all, a striking full brother to Barbaro, the spectacular winner of the Kentucky Derby in 2006.

The reality is that Nicanor is a down-to-earth horse, a real salt-of-the-earth resident of Old Friends in Georgetown, Ky.

“He might be the sweetest horse we’ve ever had,” said Michael Blowen, president of Old Friends. “He’s so sweet! He loves visitors. He tilts his head when getting his picture taken like he was John Barrymore or something!”

Blowen said Nicanor occupies a paddock between Belmont Stakes winner Sarava and Game On Dude and Little Mike, close to the beginning of the tour for visitors.

Nicanor made 18 starts, winning four races and placing in two stakes, while earning $147,697. Blowen noted the horse’s maiden win came by 15 lengths under Rosie Napravnik, a board member of Old Friends. The race, run in 2009 at Delaware Park, was the horse’s first on turf and he earned a career-high Beyer Speed Figure of 104.

Nicanor entered stud in 2013 and has three crops of racing age, but did not do well and was retired from stud duty after the 2017 breeding season. Blowen said the horse came to Old Friends at the request of Gretchen Jackson, who with her husband, Roy, bred and raced both Nicanor and the late Barbaro.

Nicanor, a 13-year-old by Dynaformer out of the Carson City mare La Ville Rouge, has made a splash since his arrival earlier in 2018.

“He’s very special,” Blowen said. “A lot of fans of Barbaro come to visit him. He’s been a real hit on the tour, a really good ambassador.”

— MARY RAMPELLINI

Michael says: Nicanor is the perfect retirement horse. His brother was more famous and more accomplished, but Nicanor has been a great retiree due to his disposition. If they had a Kentucky Derby for retirees and how well they took to it, he would win by 10 lengths.

GRETCHEN JACKSON, LAEL STABLE, OWNER

Nicanor, like Barbaro, was named after a hound in our painting of five hounds. He was born three years after Barbaro, his famous brother. Without question, he would have a lot to live up to. He was a lot like his big brother. Definitely size and color of his coat. He had very similar markings on his face, rather large ears and a not-small head. I remember our being told by the man who was responsible for breaking him that he was smart. When he went out on the track daily, he would stop to gaze around. He was always vigilant, smart, taking in his surroundings. He raced several years and he had soundness problems that hampered his ability to win races. He was a good allowance horse but not a stakes horse. But because he was Barbaro’s brother he stood at stud. He wasn’t successful there and he was gelded and retired to our farm in Pennsylvania. He turned into a real pet. Of course, we were thrilled to have him home with us. He gradually let himself become a pet, finding out that quiet farm life was to his liking. We got the idea that Nicanor must be shared. People inquired as to his whereabouts and wanted to see him. We landed on the idea that Old Friends would be perfect place for him. The rest is history.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Gretchen Jackson called about retiring Barbaro’s full brother to Old Friends and we were all thrilled. We knew that he had a lot of fans who would love to feed him carrots. But we had no idea what an amazing addition he would become. His brother may have been a Derby winner with a statue outside the Kentucky Derby Museum, but Nicanor has hit his full potential as a Grade 1 tourist attraction.

Popcorn Deelites

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Popcorn Deelites may end up being one of the most viewed Thoroughbreds of all time, but it isn't due to his work on the racetrack, though the gelding saw some success, winning 11 of 58 starts in six racing seasons. The bulk of his work came in the low-level claiming ranks, and even when people see him, they don't realize they're watching HIM.

Instead, his visibility is due to an uncanny resemblance to a most famous horse – Seabiscuit.

His bay coloring with some dark points make him the spitting image of that legendary runner, and for the movie of the same name in 2003, Popcorn Deelites had a starring role. He was one of six horses used in the movie as a Seabiscuit double. Popcorn Deelites's primary role was to play that historic horse breaking from the gate, as well as racing. So, as long as “Seabiscuit” is around, so too is Popcorn Deelites.

– MICHAEL HAMMERSLY

Michael says: Popcorn Deelites wasn't much of a racehorse, but there is something special about him – he bears a striking resemblance to Seabiscuit. When it came time to shoot the movie, the son of Old Friends retiree Afternoon Deelites was used in all of the gate scenes and the match race in the Oscar-nominated film.

HORSE TALK

CINDY GRISOLIA, OLD FRIENDS BOARD CHAIRMAN

By now, most people know Pops was a movie star, playing the role of Seabiscuit in the Academy Award-nominated movie. But we forget, sometimes, that he was also a racehorse – and no slouch, either. Pops had 58 starts and won 11 of them, including an impressive five-race win streak at Arizona's Turf Paradise in 2004. He was second or third an additional 12 times, and he compiled earnings of $56,880. The son of Afternoon Deelites – another Old Friends retiree – made his last start, at the age of 7, at Arapahoe Downs. He came in fifth. But really, it was a first-place finish, as owner David Hoffman sent his aging claimer to Old Friends, and Old Friends acquired a celeb. Win-win! Thirteen years later, Pops is still with us, and still enjoying his fame. “All right, Mr. Blowen,” he might paraphrase, if he could. “I'm ready for my close-up.”

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Popcorn's previous owner, David Hoffman, donated him to Old Friends and comes to visit Pops every time he's in town.

Sarava

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

With a half-mile left to run in the 2002 Belmont Stakes, Sarava didn't get a call. He was racing fourth, just behind the leaders, while going nicely on the bridle, but track announcer Tom Durkin, focused like most of the crowd on War Emblem's failing Triple Crown bid, missed Sarava.

When Durkin returned to the front of the Belmont field at the three-furlong pole, Sarava was back on his map, and as the lead pack turned for home and Sarava knifed through to engage Medaglia d'Oro for the lead, it became clear that Sarava, against the odds, was not going away.

"A huge upset is looming here," Durkin said as the finish neared. "Under the line, Sarava has won! The biggest longshot in the history of the Belmont Stakes at 70-1!"

Where did the race come from? The Belmont was Sarava's third career win – and his last. He didn't start for more than 13 months afterward, and never again for trainer Ken McPeck. In the summer of 2004, out of the blue, Sarava finished a close fifth in the Grade 1 Suburban and a close fourth in the Grade 1 Whitney. Those races, respectable performances against high-class competition, provided some validation for Sarava's Belmont performance. But posterity will remember Sarava for the sheer improbability of a victory on one of racing's biggest stages.

– MARCUS HERSH

Michael says: When Sarava, the longest shot in Belmont history, won, I tore up my losing tickets in a huff. Now, I'm overjoyed that he won because he's drawn thousands of fans to Old Friends. Recently, several Brazilian students told us that Sarava's name, in an Afro-Brazilian dialect, means "message to the gods."

CINDY GRISOLA, BOARD MEMBER

Sarava may have won the Belmont Stakes in 2002, thwarting War Emblem's bid for the Triple Crown, but in retirement it seems he's found a new vocation: resident meteorologist. Is Sarava tucked behind his lean-to? The wind must be out of the north at 30 mph. Is he cooling himself in the shade? Today's heat index: High! Is Sarava inside his run-in shed? Chance of precipitation: 100 percent. We don't know when the classic winner hooked up with Mother Nature, but those of us who watch him from the office window have come to rely on his daily forecast. "Is Sarava in his house?" "Yes." "Better take an umbrella."

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

In 2012, bloodstock agent Tom Bozarth asked me if we'd like to have Sarava, who had been standing stud at Bridlewood Farm in Ocala, Fla. I jumped at the chance. Not only did we get our first winner of a Triple Crown race, but owners Gary and Kitty Drake of Louisville, Ky., and Paul and Susan Roy of Great Britain donated $30,000 to his care. The Drakes often stop by to feed Sarava carrots and mints.

Saudi Poetry

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

The big, deep chestnut mare arrived at Old Friends on May 15, 2019, glowing with health. She was 22 years old, but despite a slight dip in her back, looked 10 years younger – like a horse who had been loved and well cared for, which is exactly what she was. But her story could have been different . . . and potentially tragic. Two years earlier, she had been on a downhill slide to who knows where when fates intervened and placed her in the right hands at just the right time.

Saudi Poetry was bred to land among the stars. A daughter of legendary Storm Cat and from a distaff family of champions, she raced for Saudi royalty and was trained by Hall of Famer Bob Baffert. Three times she sold at auction for more than $1 million – twice for $2 million or more.

“I’ve always loved her, and she runs like hell,” Baffert once said of his multiple graded stakes winner.

Upon retirement, the $596,972 earner was bred to some of the best stallions money could buy, and her 10 future foals included one by A.P. Indy and five by Unbridled’s Song. Unfortunately, none could run worth a nickel, and as years passed the once highly sought-after mare slid into obscurity. Then at a 2017 sale in Florida, she turned up, old and barren, barely a blip on the catalog radar. Two who noticed were former trainer Jeff Morris and his good friend, best-selling author Laura Hillenbrand, who swooped in to buy her for a mere $1,500.

“She had a superlative race record,” Morris recalled in a Daily Racing Form article at the time, noting that she seemed “squarely in fate’s always-capricious eye.”

After two years of pensioned life on the Morris family’s North Carolina property, the big mare was relocated to Old Friends, where she will live out her days in safety and comfort as the horse she was always meant to be.

JEFF MORRIS, TRAINER

Known by my family as “The Big Mare,” Saudi Poetry has been an unexpected gift. Beyond her purple pedigree, her perfect conformation, her achievements on the racetrack, and her A-list trainer and owner connections – setting all superficialities of a catalog page or past-performance sheet aside – she, simply as a horse, is one of the most loving, kind, and noble creatures walking this Earth. How lucky we were, and how grateful, that she graced our home and pastures for the two-plus years that she did. Finding Saudi Poetry, and pulling her from the ocean of indifference that can sometimes engulf older mares, became one of the most rewarding experiences of my life. To have been able to do it alongside my friend and partner Laura Hillenbrand made it all the more meaningful. And now to see our “Big Mare” welcomed into the horse heaven that is Old Friends – where others may have the chance to give her a peppermint and look into those beautiful eyes that have seen so much – an already brimming cup has fully runneth over.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Jeff Morris and Laura Hillenbrand brought Saudi Poetry to our attention. That was enough. Once owned by War Emblem’s connections and a multiple graded stakes winner who sold for $2.2 million at the 2003 Keeneland November sale, she ended up being offered, 14 years later, at the January Ocala Breeders’ sale, where she was bought by Jeff Morris for $1,500, less than Jeff offered for her presale. After she arrived at Old Friends with the financial support of Laura Hillenbrand, she bonded with one of Silver Charm’s first daughters Classy Charm. And, as the saying goes, they’re living happily ever after.

Silver Charm

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Bob Baffert has won the Kentucky Derby five times now and, owing to American Pharoah and Justify, even has two Triple Crown winners on his résumé. But it was Silver Charm who first got him to the winner's circle on the first Saturday in May, and that victory came one year after a brutal loss, one that left Baffert wondering if he'd ever get a better chance on Derby Day. Cavonnier, Baffert's first starter in the Kentucky Derby, was beaten in the 1996 Derby in the very last jump by Grindstone. A year later, Silver Charm was in a dogfight with Captain Bodgit.

"Please don't do it. Lord, please don't do it to me again," Baffert said he pleaded as the horses neared the wire.

When the horses hit the finish, Baffert collapsed into the arms of Bob Lewis, who owned Silver Charm with his wife, Beverly.

"I didn't think I'd feel like that," Baffert said. "It was an unbelievable experience. My stomach hurt so much when they hit the wire, I couldn't move."

That tenacity was Silver Charm's calling card. Of his 12 wins, six – including a dead heat – were by a head or less. Silver Charm was the first horse with whom Baffert won the Dubai World Cup and was the first Kentucky Derby winner to also win that rich race.

– JAY PRIVMAN

Michael says: Dec. 1, 2014, was one of the happiest days of my life. When Silver Charm, led by Three Chimneys's Sandy Hatfield, calmly strolled off the Sallee Van, it marked a milestone in Old Friends history. And it allowed me to have my favorite Thoroughbred of all time in my backyard. He has lived up to all of our lofty expectations with his dignity and grace. How does it get any better than that?

TIM WILSON, FARM MANAGER

To work with Silver Charm every day is to be on set with a movie star. Not a young, flavor-of-the-month kind of star with a trendy new summer release coming out, but rather an enduring, bona fide, iconic megastar. Think Cary Grant on set ... in a gray suit. The consummate professional, Silver Charm would be that seasoned actor who always knows his lines. As a pensioned stallion, he is always pitch-perfect in his understanding of his work as Old Friends's most famous public ambassador. Silver Charm took to the public from the very beginning. He has even worked into his routine the fact that running up from the back of his paddock to the front for receiving carrots, pats, and photo opportunities is far more exciting for his scores of appreciative fans than simply meandering over or just standing around. He gets it. As an older horse, though, he also instinctively understands the importance of pacing himself. Having learned the Old Friends tour schedule, he plans his daily naps in the warm sun to occur just prior to a next round of scheduled visitors. Arising refreshed, Old Friends's esteemed ambassador happily returns to work.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Thanks to Beverly and Jeff Lewis and the Japan Bloodhorse Breeders' Association, Silver Charm is at Old Friends. When he left the United States a decade ago, he carried with him a buyback clause that Robert Lewis insisted on. When his breeding life was finished, the Lewises enforced the clause – and here he is.

Smooth Air

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Smooth Air was something of an overachiever on the racetrack if you went by pedigree alone.

While the son of Smooth Jazz out of the French Deputy mare Air France comes from a respectable female family – it has produced several graded stakes winners in the first two dams – his sire was pretty much a failure. Smooth Jazz sired just three stakes winners from 141 foals, and Smooth Air was his only graded stakes winner.

But despite any pedigree deficiencies, Smooth Air could run. The Florida-bred Smooth Air could sprint and run long, won on both dirt and turf, and competed in top company most of his career.

Trained by Bennie Stutts Jr., Smooth Air began his racing career in Florida, and quickly made an impression, winning his career debut at Calder. Early in his 3-year-old season, he won the Grade 2 Hutcheson Stakes, and two starts later finished second to Big Brown in the Grade 1 Florida Derby. That earned him a trip to Churchill Downs, but he lost all chance at the start of the Kentucky Derby when he broke in the air at the start and finished 11th to winner Big Brown.

Smooth Air rebounded to win the Grade 2 Ohio Derby, and later that year ran in the Breeders' Cup Classic, finishing seventh. At 4, he won the Gulfstream Park Handicap and was second in the Grade 1 Metropolitan Handicap. He closed out his career with earnings of $1,117,200 and six wins, and finished in the top three in 14 of 17 career starts.

His success on the track earned him a place at stud, and Smooth Air stood for six seasons in Louisiana. He could not sire any foals as good as he was, so in 2017 he was retired to Old Friends, where he could spend the rest of his days greeting visitors and reminding them how good a racehorse he was.

– MARK SIMON

Michael says: Smooth Air is just like his name: smooth as glass. Handsome, confident, and easygoing, the son of Smooth Jazz is as cool as they come. He's completely content to graze and eat carrots and allow us to dote on him.

CINDY GRISOLIA, OLD FRIENDS BOARD CHAIRMAN

If nothing else, we love his name. Smooth Air – which, when you think about it, kind of describes the way he skimmed speedily over the track, as if a cool wave of high pressure was carrying him along. That silky wave took him to victories in the Grade 2 Gulfstream Park Handicap, Grade 2 Ohio Derby, Grade 2 Hutcheson Stakes, and Needles Stakes before being retired due to a hoof injury. At 12, with a stud career behind him, the stallion was donated to us by longtime supporters Brian and Jan Burns, whose family's Mount Joy Stables bred and raced the millionaire son of Smooth Jazz. Talk about a smooth move.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

There are very few individuals who have done more for Old Friends than Brian Burns of the aptly named Mt. Joy Stables. Years ago, he retired The Name's Jimmy to us and when it came time for this multiple stakes winner to retire, he called us. Smooth Air won or placed in 14 races and earned $1,117,200 in just 17 lifetime starts. And Brian loved him. The appropriately named son of Smooth Jazz came to us from Louisiana, where he stood at stud for several years.

Soi Phet

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

On the East Coast, the name Soi Phet may have rung no bells for the average racegoer, but out West in recent years it was well known – and beloved. The horse who carried that moniker was a dark bay California-bred gelding who came from nowhere to become one of the most popular regional runners of his time.

Soi Phet was by a stakes-winning brother to Horse of the Year Tiznow, from a female family thin on quality black type. He would do his best to change that. Unraced until age 4, Soi Phet ground it out on the track over eight seasons, winning 15 of 64 starts and earning $1,023,917. He was claimed at age 5 by trainer Leonard Powell and under his new ownership's banner he proved smart, adaptable, and talented. He earned more than $1 million of his career earnings for Powell as he developed mentally and physically into a classy competitor on the tough Southern California circuit, where he became a multiple stakes winner at the advanced age of 10. In the 2018 Crystal Water Stakes, Soi Phet paid $96.80 as he became the oldest horse ever to win a stakes race in Santa Anita's long, storied history.

The “graybeard millionaire,” as one writer referred to him, was a sizzling miler at his best, with a heart as big as a mountain. He won eight stakes on dirt and grass, including the 2014 Los Alamitos Mile, in which he broke his own track record in 1:33.95. Powell retired Soi Phet to Old Friends, arriving on July 8, 2019. Fans paid tribute to the gallant gelding on social media, with one commenting: “Thank you for every race you ever ran.”

– MARY SIMON

Michael says: Who wouldn't love Soi Phet? The $16,000 claimer evolved into a millionaire and, on his way to financial security, became one of the most popular athletes in California history. “Financially, he means a lot,” said his astute and kind trainer, Leonard Powell, when he won the $100,000 Bertrando Stakes at Los Alamitos. “But, honestly, for the horse it doesn't mean anything, because to me he has always been worth a million dollars and more.” And he's even kinder and cooler than anyone could imagine. He's a sterling example of how a program of care, concern, and love can amount to a long, successful career and a happy and healthy retirement.

HORSE TALK

SANDRA BENOWITZ, OWNER

The call came in spring 2013 from trainer Leonard Powell. “I have found a horse to claim who looks like he has some potential. Are you in?” The partnership of Benowitz Family Trust, Mathilde Powell, and Paul Viskovich answered “Yes,” and thus began the saga of Soi Phet, a 5-year-old gelding with a modest pedigree and only a maiden win in 16 starts. The next six years were extraordinary as Soi Phet captured eight stakes and placed in six others, including the Grade 1 Awesome Again. In winning the Crystal Water Stakes at age 10, Soi Phet became the oldest stakes winner in the history of Santa Anita. He twice set the mile track record at Los Alamitos, where he won five stakes. Soi Phet proved his versatility by winning on dirt, synthetic, and turf. He won $1,023,917 while making 64 starts. To his connections, he is “family.” Soi Phet's tenacity and longevity made him a fan favorite. His fans continually asked that he be retired where they could visit and see him as a happy horse. There is no better match than Soi Phet and Old Friends, horse heaven on earth!

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

I remember communicating with Leonard Powell about retiring Soi Phet to Old Friends several years ago. After that inquiry, the Benowitzes, Mathilde and Leonard Powell, and Paul Viscovich visited Old Friends. I knew that they would never squeeze the last dime out of Soi Phet. And they didn't. When he was entered in his last race, Leonard assured me that, win or lose, he would be retired here. Soi Phet finished last and got a standing ovation.

Sun King

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

Charismatic never crossed paths with his best son, but he came close. The 1999 Horse of the Year, Charismatic passed unexpectedly in February 2017, just weeks after arriving at Old Friends. Less than a month later, Sun King vanned up the farm's lane.

While this handsome bay could not be mistaken for his illustrious red-coated sire in appearance or classic talent, he nevertheless quickly became a prized and popular new tenant at the Georgetown facility.

Sun King had sold as a yearling for $400,000 at a sale that averaged barely $26,000. Clearly, he was a stand-out, and new owner Tracy Farmer had high hopes for the well-named colt. For Hall of Fame trainer Nick Zito, Sun King developed into a multiple graded stakes winner of $2.2 million, spending his career beating some of racing's best, including 20 Grade 1/Group 1-winning millionaires and several global champions. Although he never himself captured a Grade 1 race, only a nose, a head, and a length separated him from three such victories (the 2006 Whitney and Metropolitan, and 2004 Breeders' Cup Juvenile), and another $1 million in earnings.

Retired in 2008 to historic Darby Dan Farm, Sun King got off to a sluggish start at stud. By 2013, he'd been relocated to Louisiana, and when infertility became an issue that even Auburn University's elite clinic could not solve, he hit the road again – this time to Old Friends.

Ill fate has long shadowed members of Sun King's family. His beautiful sire broke down almost fatally near the finish of what could have been a Triple Crown sweep, then died too soon when pensioned. A Grade 1-winning half-brother named Traitor perished young in a barn fire, while another triple stakes-winning half-sibling, Beavers Nose, departed racing as a low-level claimer.

Hopefully, Sun King will buck the unhappy familial trend here at Old Friends, grazing his way into advanced old age, ankle deep in Kentucky bluegrass ... occasionally appearing fence-side to graciously grant his fans a regal audience.

– MARY SIMON

Michael says: As a horseplayer, I loved Sun King because he always made an effort. While his win percentage isn't great, he always tried. And it was always against the iron. In 2006, he finished second in the Metropolitan Handicap, Whitney Handicap, and the Albert the Great Stakes. In 2007, he filled out the exacta in the Westchester Handicap, Woodward (again), and the Ack Ack Handicap. But, when he retired, he had earned $2,240,008. Not bad for an athlete with a chronic case of seconditis. That's all over now. He's in the front paddock by the pond where he's one of our most enthusiastic greeters.

HORSE TALK

LAURA BATTLES, PHOTOGRAPHER AND TOUR GUIDE

Sun King is quite the stalker. He will follow the person carrying the carrot bucket the length of his paddock fence to make sure they don't want to give him a couple more pieces. He also will come flying across his paddock for carrots. He was always an easy photo op when I was heading to the back of the farm. I have a feeling he's enjoying his new paddock where he gets to greet just about every tour that visits the farm.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

For several years, I spoke with Tracy Farmer about Sun King. I was hoping that this great son of Charismatic could be reunited with his sire. But that was not to be. After his stud career was completed and a brief sojourn as a stallion in the Auburn University Veterinary reproductive program, he finally arrived at Old Friends.

Touch Gold

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

For over 20 years I have been awaiting the chance to repay the favor to Touch Gold for bailing me out, and those that happened to trust my opinion back on a famous afternoon of racing.

Push the rewind button to June 1997 when Silver Charm was seeking to become a Triple Crown winner in the Belmont Stakes after winning the Kentucky Derby and Preakness. And though I respected Silver Charm, I was thrilled about the prospect of betting against him at a short price – with Illinois Derby winner Wild Rush.

I told friends in the Daily Racing Form office that year: Wild Rush – bet him. Well, Wild Rush gave me a Belmont rush for only a mile or so, then began his retreat. And that's when his entymate Touch Gold saved the day, rallying wide under Chris McCarron to catch Silver Charm in the closing strides. Thanks to Touch Gold being coupled in the wagering with Wild Rush, I was wrong and still got to collect a $7.30 mutuel, leaving me that day much luckier than smart.

With the benefit of hindsight, Wish Rush had nothing on Touch Gold as a 3-year-old. For that matter, it could be argued that not even Silver Charm and Free House – other top 3-year-olds of that year – were of his quality for at least a few months that summer, when Touch Gold also won the Haskell, and prior to the Belmont was an unlucky fourth in the Preakness after stumbling to his face at the start and injuring a hoof.

He is a splendid addition to Old Friends, and I'm sure many, like me, will forever remember his 1997 Belmont victory, whether they bet him (or his stablemate) or not.

– BYRON KING

Michael says: Reuniting Touch Gold with Silver Charm at Old Friends is a Celtics-Lakers, Ali-Frazier, Yankees-Red Sox, Packers-Bears moment. One of the great rivalries in all of sports, Silver Charm prevailed in the 1997 Kentucky Derby and Preakness but lost in the Belmont, when that crafty Chris McCarron aboard Touch Gold snuck up from behind when Silver Charm wasn't looking. Okay, I'm biased.

HORSE TALK

LISA Q. WOOD, TOUR GUIDE

I call Touch Gold our hunk-a-hunk-a horse. He is an admirable combination of power, muscle, intelligence, and intensity. He exudes strength and confidence and commands respect. In his younger days a formidable opponent on the racetrack, today he is still every bit a proud, territorial stallion. On tours, Touch Gold teaches me patience. I approach his paddock calling his name. Always in the opposite corner of his paddock from me, he begins with a look over his shoulder. The stopwatch starts ... the game is on. Every movement is a precisely choreographed practiced strategy. He starts with a slow turn in my direction, and proceeds with a graceful, cat-like walk, every step measured. At the halfway point in his paddock, he breaks into a full run. Touch Gold defines “horsepower” – all cylinders firing. Suddenly he is right in front of me with a precision-timed stop – a proud arrival at the finish line, awaiting carrots. Visitors are thrilled! I quickly glance upward in thanks, and breathe a sigh of relief. Another victory for Touch Gold ... a little more patience for me, plenty of appreciation for him!

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Along with his colleague Alphabet Soup, Touch Gold arrived at Old Friends in perfect condition after a long and successful racing and breeding career at Adena Springs. Mike Rogers of The Stronach Group arranged for Touch Gold to retire at Old Friends and the transition could not have been smoother. He also came with a significant endowment.

Wake Forest

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

German-bred Wake Forest was a bit of an international globetrotter, competing in some of the best races on several continents, which, ultimately, is how he wound up at Old Friends.

The son of Sir Percy began his racing career in his homeland, but also competed in France and Italy before being sent to North America for the 2015 Grade 1 Arlington Million.

He ran fifth that day and then returned to Europe, where he was sold for $157,000 at a French racing age sale to the American partnership of Michael Dubb, Sheep Pond Partners, and Bethlehem Stable. Wake Forest's new owners returned him to the United States and handed him over to trainer Chad Brown. In his second start for them, he won the 2016 Grade 1 Man o' War Stakes at Belmont and the following year added the Grade 2 Mac Diarmida Stakes at Gulfstream Park, earning $619,025 for the partners before they sold him for $90,000 at a racing age sale in Kentucky. Over time, the horse who had once raced with the best slipped down the class ladder and was entered for $8,000 claiming in November 2018. At that sad point, former owner Dubb stepped in and took him for the purpose of retiring the former Grade 1 winner. Wake Forest arrived at Old Friends a few days later to live out his retirement.

— MARK SIMON

Michael says: Wake Forest is no demon deacon. He's a bright, wary, multiple graded stakes winner who wears his confidence well.

HORSE TALK

MICHAEL DUBB, OWNER

Wake Forest was such a joy to be around, he oozed class, coolness, and charisma. A world traveler, he raced in his homeland of Germany, plus Italy, France, and Canada, as well as in the United States, where he won several graded races. His most famous win came in the Grade 1 Man o' War Stakes at Belmont Park. As someone who campaigned him for a good deal of his North American career, I am so grateful to Old Friends for providing a safe and nourishing place for him to live out his life.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

Michael Dubb is a great friend of Old Friends. When he wanted to donate Wake Forest, we were thrilled for him and the horse and us. The German-bred turf specialist won one of my favorite races – the Man o' War Stakes at Belmont Park in 2016. Wake Forest spent some down time under the watchful eye of Dr. Bryan Waldrige and the enlightened staff at Park Equine before coming to us at Old Friends.

War Emblem

BARBARA D. LIVINGSTON

He can be devious, aloof, temperamental, and enigmatic, but he is undeniably magnificent – and knows it. War Emblem may not be the easiest character to deal with at Old Friends, but since the dual classic winner's arrival in 2015, he has certainly been among the most interesting.

War Emblem's story could have been penned by rags-to-riches author Horatio Alger, having been a modestly bred $20,000 yearling who rose to the very apex of his sport. Under Bob Baffert's tutelage, the nearly black colt won three $1 million races in 2002 – the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, and Haskell Invitational – and earned a $1 million bonus for adding the $500,000 Illinois Derby to his résumé before retiring with $3 million in the bank and an Eclipse Award on the shelf.

He sold for $17 million to Japan for a much-anticipated stud career, but the opinionated young stallion had ideas of his own, turning out to be picky, disinterested, and weirdly averse to grays. A fortune was spent on physiological testing and libido “therapy,” and after an appalling four-foal debut crop, War Emblem improved to 33 in 2005. But he remained erratic. In 2010, he “accepted” just five of the nearly 300 mares brought to him; the following year, not one would do. Sadly, he could have been a contender, as better than 15 percent of his runners were of stakes class, including a champion.

War Emblem was gelded to avoid import regulations requiring he breed two mares in testing for contagious equine metritis. He had made it quite clear that wasn't an option ... and so it goes.

– MARY SIMON

Michael says: War Emblem has what all great athletes – human or equine – possess: talent, intelligence, and iron will. While he has settled in, he still wants everyone to know that he's a dual classic winner, and you're not.

PEDIGREE: 1999, g., by Our Emblem—Sweetest Lady, by Lord At War

HORSE TALK

TIM WILSON, FARM MANAGER

To work with War Emblem every day is to know a horse that is by some measures, but not all, the most intelligent horse currently enjoying retirement at the farm. He is that smart. Of course, if brute intelligence is the only factor under review then Superman could give the same report about his arch nemesis, the enigmatic supervillain Lex Luthor. Similar is life with our own master of enigma, War Emblem. War Emblem also has the body of a Greek god walking earth in the guise of a horse, the face of a GQ model, and an overflow of natural talent. On the other hand, he has the maturity of a spoiled kid throwing a tantrum in a toy store, the patience of a gnat, and pretty much embodies the equine version of the term “tactile defensive” when work on his legs is involved. But all of that describes War Emblem locked into a loop of overthinking things. That is a loop that is slowly, but surely, being weakened. When he first arrived at his new home, War Emblem appeared a horse with a ton of things on his mind, all moving at 100 mph. But to see him today, is to see a markedly more relaxed and settled horse. He is clearly a king at peace with his kingdom. Credit for this should be happily shared by everyone – staff, volunteers, and visitors who are combining to give War Emblem the life of leisure and enjoyment that he has so enthusiastically embraced.

PATH TO OLD FRIENDS

In fall 2002, War Emblem was sold to the Yoshida family of Japan to stand at their Shadai Stallion Station. When he was retired from stud duty in 2015, the Yoshida family generously agreed to donate him to Old Friends.

HALL OF FAME

Awad

B., h., 1990-2009, by Caveat—Dancer's Candy, by Noble Dancer

EARNED: $3,270,131

MAJOR RACES WON: Arlington Million (G1), Manhattan (G1), Secretariat (G1), Sword Dancer Invitational (G1)

David Donk, trainer: Wow, it's been almost 27 years since Awad broke his maiden in the Pilgrim Stakes. Fay and I owe so much to Awad, who has given us so many wonderful memories. Little did we know that he would take us on a world tour of racing, winning races at Hialeah, Gulfstream, Belmont, and Arlington, along with two trips to Japan to run in the Japan Cup.

Michael Blowen adds that if you call the Donks' home and no one answers, the machine says, "You've reached the home of Fay and David Donk in the house that Awad bought."

Benburb

Ro., g., 1989-2012, by Dr. Carter—Rosedon, by Vice Regent

EARNED: $1,150,949

MAJOR RACES WON: Molson Export Million (G2), Prince of Wales

MILESTONES: Sovereign Award as Canada's 1992 Horse of the Year and champion 3-year-old male

Val Mulgrave, volunteer: Bennie was kind of a calm, wise old uncle with other horses at Old Friends. He was the one tapped to pair up with young horses just off the track, and he would show them the pasture ropes. It didn't matter if the youngster was aggressive, high-strung, or tightly wrapped. Bennie just did his thing and calmed down the situation. Bennie's first young ward was Smokey Stover, and he subsequently was paired with any number of bays and chestnuts. But I still think of him with Smokey – the white horse and the black one, contentedly grazing side by side.

Bint Marscay

Ch. m., 1990-2019, by Marscay—Eau d'Etoile, by Sir Tristram

EARNED: $1,034,821

MAJOR RACES WON: Golden Slipper (Aus-G1), Chirnside (Aus-G2), Magic Night (Aus-G2)

Richard Freedman, trainer: I was saddened to hear of the passing of Bint Marscay. She was one of the greatest 2-year-olds to race in Australia, and she remains a yardstick by which Australian 2-year-olds are still measured today. She gave me, my family, and her racing connections so much joy. Thanks to Old Friends for taking such good care of her in retirement. She deserved no less.

Black Tie Affair

Gr. or ro., h., 1986-2010, by Miswaki—Hat Tab Girl, by Al Hattab

EARNED: $3,370,694

MAJOR RACES WON: Breeders' Cup Classic (G1), Metropolitan (G1), Philip H. Iselin (G1)

MILESTONES: 1991 Horse of the Year and champion older horse; sire of more than 35 stakes winners, including millionaires Evening Attire and Formal Gold

Dee Poulos, supporter, wife of late trainer Ernie Poulos: He was just life-changing for us. It was such a wonderful experience with him. He was and still will be an inspiration for me.

Michael Blowen: It was an honor to be associated with such an amazing athlete. The Old Friends team, headed by Dr. Doug Byars, did everything we could to help this old warrior. In the end, he exhibited the same class as he did when he won the Breeders' Cup Classic. He was the best in every way.

Bonapaw

B., g., 1996-2017, by Sabona-Pawlova, by Nijinsky II

EARNED: $1,158,752

MAJOR RACES WON: Vosburgh S. (G1), Count Fleet Sprint H. (G3), Hanshin Cup H. (G3)

Michael Blowen: We are so grateful to have had these years with Bonapaw. He was a great racehorse, and he meant so much to his owners, as well as all of his many fans. His owner, Jamie (Richard), even donated Bonapaw's Vosburgh trophy to us, and we will cherish it always.

HALL OF FAME

Bonnie's Poker

Dk. b. or br., m., 1982-2010, by Poker—What a Surprise, by Wise Margin

MILESTONE: Dam of Silver Charm – Racing Hall of Fame class of 2007, 1997 champion 3-year-old colt, winner of Kentucky Derby (G1), Preakness (G1), Dubai World Cup (UAE-G1), earner of $6,944,369

Michael Blown: What a dame! While famous as the dam of Kentucky Derby winner Silver Charm and as the 1997 Florida broodmare of the year, Bonnie's Poker also was a tough little racehorse, winning races for trainer Oscar Barrera in the middle of winter at Aqueduct. Kris Jakeman pensioned her to Old Friends, where she tolerated us for several years. She ran the mare paddock until the day she died.

Bull Inthe Heather

Ro., h., 1990-2014, by Ferdinand—Heather Road, by The Axe II

EARNED: $508,338

MAJOR RACE WON: Florida Derby (G1)

Roberta Leckbee, owner: My husband and I stood Bull Inthe Heather at our farm in Washington for many years. He always was a kind horse to work with and was the first stallion that our teen-aged son learned to handle in the breeding shed. He was always my family's favorite horse, and we were so glad that he found the perfect retirement home at Old Friends.

Catlaunch

Dk. b. or br., g., 2001-2018, by Noble Cat—Skilaunch, by Relaunch

EARNED: $1,122,309

MILESTONES: Three-time Ohio horse of the year, won 22 stakes

Michael Blown: Catlaunch was the Lou Gehrig of Old Friends – an Iron Horse. In 108 starts over a 10-year career, he won 40 races and earned $1,122,309. He was victorious numerous times in virtually every Ohio-bred stakes race. The gelded son of Noble Cat earned every penny of his retirement, which was celebrated at Beulah Park with a special Catlaunch Day.

Charismatic

Ch., h., 1996-2017, by Summer Squall-Bali Babe, by Drone

EARNED: $2,038,064

MAJOR RACES WON: Kentucky Derby (G1), Preakness (G1), Lexington S. (G2)

Michael Blown: A few days after we'd made arrangements to bring Charismatic home, I was in the back of the musty basement and found a framed, dusty poster of Charismatic's 1999 Kentucky Derby victory. On the glass was a Post-it note that read, "Save for when he comes home." It was dated April 11, 2004. After reading Elizabeth Mitchell's brilliant book Three Strides Before the Wire for the third time and watching the ESPN documentary Charismatic over and over again, I couldn't imagine any horse who we'd rather have at Old Friends. He was a really tough horse, and he deserved a much longer retirement. But none of us, unfortunately, has a magic wand. Everyone at Old Friends takes solace from the few special months that this great champion gave us.

Creator

Ch., h., 1986-2015, by Mill Reef—Chalon, by Habitat

EARNED: $550,537

MAJOR RACES WON: Prix d'Ispahan (Fr-G1), Prix Ganay (Fr-G1), Prix d'Harcourt (Fr-G2), Prix Dollar (Fr-G2), Prix Guillaume d'Ornano (Fr-G2)

Michael Blown: Diane, my wife, adored Creator, once commenting, after I idiotically said that I thought she liked him more than she liked me, "Well, he's bigger, he's stronger, he's more athletic, he made more money, he's smarter, and he's better looking." Enough said. He really enjoyed native strawberries, Harry and David pears, and Diane's constant attention.

Early Pioneer

Ch., g., 1995-2018, by Rahy —Golden Darling, by Slew o' Gold
EARNED: $1,156,815
MAJOR RACES WON: Hollywood Gold Cup (G1), San Bernardino H. (G2)

David and Holly Wilson, owners: We have had many great horses and experienced our share of exciting wins, but no memory will ever take the place of that day in 2000, when Early Pioneer ran his way into the record books as one of the biggest upset winners in the 61-year history of the Hollywood Gold Cup.

Flying Pidgeon

B., h., 1981-2008, by Upper Case—Miss Minnesota, by Minnesota Mac
EARNED: $1,154,337
MAJOR RACES WON: Hollywood Invitational Handicap (G1), William L. McKnight Invitational (G2) twice
MILESTONES: 1986 Florida champion turf horse, Calder Race Course Hall of Fame

Hallie McEvoy, supporter: I was so thrilled when Flying Pidgeon, commonly known as “FP” or “Pidgeon,” took up residence at Old Friends. I can’t think of a more deserving horse. By the way, I’m sure you’ve noticed that “Pidgeon” is spelled incorrectly. There is a funny story behind this. Before FP raced, his owner at the time was wandering around the grandstand at Calder trying to pick a name for the colt. Within minutes, a pigeon “christened” his program. So, he named FP “Flying Pidgeon,” not realizing he had spelled “Pidgeon” incorrectly!

Fraise

B., h., 1988-2005, by Strawberry Road—Zalataia, by Dictus
EARNED: $2,613,105
MAJOR RACES WON: Breeders’ Cup Turf (G1), Hollywood Turf Cup (G1), Sword Dancer (G1)
MILESTONE: Repatriated from Japan to Old Friends in 2005

Michael Blown: If Madeleine Paulson weren’t such a good golfer, Fraise may never have triumphed in the 1992 Breeders’ Cup Turf. The wife of the late Allen Paulson won Fraise from her husband in a wager on the green, decided he should be competing on the grass, not the dirt, and turned over training duties to Bill Mott, who had won the Breeders’ Cup Turf with Theatrical in 1987. The result was a record-breaking Breeders’ Cup Turf win by a head in a blazing 2:24 flat.

Fortunate Prospect

Dk. b. or br., h., 1981-2012, by Northern Prospect—Fortunate Bid, by Lucky Debonair
EARNED: $439,875
MILESTONES: Broodmare sire of millionaires Ron the Greek and Musket Man

Diane White: We called him “Grandpa.” He had a dignified bearing. His eyes were kind and seemed to reflect a certain hard-won wisdom. He was gentle. He loved a back rub. And he knew how to relax. He would lie perfectly still for hours at a time. Visitors were forever rushing into the office to report: “There’s a dead horse out there!” We’d go out to his paddock to check, and as soon as we came within five feet of “the body,” he’d twitch an ear to let us know he was still with us. He had a sense of humor, and the joke was always on us.

Genuine Reward

Ch. h., 1993-2018, by Rahy—Genuine Risk, by Exclusive Native
MILESTONE: First of only two foals to live produced by 1980 Kentucky Derby winner Genuine Risk

Michael Blown: He was as kind and as sweet and as gentle and as intelligent as any horse we had. We moved him to the front of the farm because he was so popular, and it certainly helped that he looked just like his mom.

HALL OF FAME

Geri

Ch. h., 1992-2019, by Theatrical—Garimpeiro, by Mr. Prospector

EARNED: $1,707,980

MAJOR RACES WON: Oaklawn H. (G1), Citation H. (G2), Creme Fraiche H. (G3)

Michael Blown: Geri’s handsome countenance offered an insufficient disguise for his deep-seated toughness. He knew who he was. He was even smart enough to tell us when his time had come.

Glitterman

B., h., 1985-2011, by Dewan—Moon Glitter, by In Reality

EARNED: $473,914

MAJOR RACES WON: Louisiana Downs Budweiser Breeders’ Cup, Philadelphia Park Budweiser Breeders’ Cup

MILESTONES: Equaled world record, Hialeah Park, 5 1/2 furlongs in 1:01.60; sire of 33 stakes winners, including millionaires Balto Star and Glitter Woman

Ryan Campbell, supporter: I fell in love with Glitterman first through owning one of his sons. My daughter and I would make trips every year to visit him. From the first time we saw him, there was a connection. Though Glitterman demanded respect, he also was capable of giving love and receiving love. Some of my family’s best memories come from grooming him out in the field. My daughter would sit on the fence, and Glitterman would just lay his head in her lap while she would brush his forelock or pat his head. We miss you, old man.

Gulch

B., h., 1984-2016, by Mr. Prospector—Jameela, by Rambunctious

EARNED: $3,015,521

MAJOR RACES WON: Breeders’ Cup Sprint (G1), Metropolitan (G1) twice, Wood Memorial (G1), Carter (G1), Futurity (G1), Hopeful (G1)

MILESTONE: 1988 champion sprinter

Lane’s End Farm: When Gulch retired to stud in 1989, Lane’s End was still a young farm. We had opened our stallion division just four years earlier. Gulch was a strong stallion prospect. He was that rare racehorse who got good early and stayed good. Gulch wasted no time at Lane’s End showing that he would be an outstanding sire. It’s no exaggeration to say he helped lay the foundation of one of the world’s most successful farms. Indeed, years from now, when people talk Lane’s End’s beginnings, they will talk about Gulch. And for that, we thank our old friend.

Halo America

Gr., m., 1990-2016, by Waquoit—Ameriangel, by Halo

EARNED: $1,460,992

MAJOR RACES WON: Apple Blossom H. (G1), Molly Pitcher Breeders’ Cup H. (G2), Louisville Breeders’ Cup H. (G2), Falls City H. (G3)

Michael Blown: Halo America wasn’t with us long, but it didn’t take her long to make a lasting impression. She was a spectacular racehorse, a successful broodmare, and a kind, intelligent, beautiful old friend.

Hidden Lake

B., m., 1993-2016, by Quiet American—Friendly Circle, by Round Table

EARNED: $947,489

MAJOR RACES WON: Beldame (G1), Go for Wand (G1), Hempstead (G1), Shuvee (G2), La Brea (G2)

MILESTONE: 1997 champion older female

Barbara Fossum: It was easy to see why Hidden Lake was a champion. From her courageous victory in the 1997 Go for Wand Stakes at Saratoga, to the seven foals she carried, foaled, and raised, to her life in the retirement paddock she shared with Australian champion Bint Marscay, Miss Lake was determined to be first in everything she did. That determination, even at age 23, defined who she was until the day she died. And it was why she had an Eclipse Award sitting on the mantle in her run-in shed.

Jade Hunter

Ch., h., 1984-2011, by Mr. Prospector—Jadana, by Pharly

EARNED: $407,260

MAJOR RACES WON: Donn (G1), Gulfstream Park Handicap (G1)

MILESTONE: Sire of Azeri – Racing Hall of Fame class of 2010, 2002 Horse of the Year, 2002, 2003, 2004 champion older female, Apple Blossom (G1) three times, Breeders' Cup Distaff (G1), Go for Wand (G1), Milady (G1) twice, Santa Margarita (G1), Spinster (G1), Vanity (G1) twice; earned more than $4 million

Michael Blown: Jade Hunter was a very proud and confident stallion with an intelligence that matched his beauty. He was a great pal, and I'd like to thank Steve Haskin for the invaluable photograph he took of Jade Hunter just a fortnight before his death. These are always heartbreaking times, but I treasure the privilege of being with Jade Hunter in his final moments. After all the places he went and all the things he accomplished, I was honored to be with him at the end to provide what little solace we could.

Kiri's Clown

Dk. b. or br., h., 1989-2014, by Foolish Pleasure—Kiri, by Kris

EARNED: $1,005,469

MAJOR RACES WON: Sword Dancer (G1), New Hampshire Sweepstakes Handicap (G2) twice, Knickerbocker (G3)

Michael Blown: I like all of our retirees, but there is handful that I love. I loved Kiri. In 1995, Kiri won the Sword Dancer Stakes at Saratoga, besting another Old Friends retiree, the late Awad. In fact, I went to Saratoga that day just to see them race each other, and I couldn't get a seat. In the many years prior to Awad's passing, I could sit in the aisle between their paddocks with a beer and my Daily Racing Form and have the best seat in the house.

Klassy Briefcase

Ch., m., 1985-2013, by Medieval Man—Leather Gallery, by The Pruner

EARNED: $362,959

MILESTONES: Won 18 of 42 starts; world record, Monmouth Park five furlongs in 54.80; track record, Pimlico Race Course, five furlongs in 56.60

Lara Levine, owner: Klassy so impressed us with her quiet dignity and maternal strength that she quickly became a family member. She handled everything gracefully – including sharing a pasture with another broodmare and two geldings. Though clearly the leader, she quietly set the example for the others in the group. As a mother, she was no less poised and practiced. She modeled patience, dignity, and strength. Her name says it all: Klassy!

Michael Blown adds: Klassy with a "K" was classy with a "c" as well. She was patient, understanding, smart, and lovable.

Marquetry

Ch., h., 1987-2013, by Conquistador Cielo—Regent's Walk, by Vice Regent

EARNED: $2,857,886

MAJOR RACES WON: Eddie Read (G1), Hollywood Gold Cup (G1), Meadowlands Cup (G1)

MILESTONES: Sire of two champion sprinters and Breeders' Cup Sprint winners – Artax (1999) and Squirtle Squirt (2001)

Michael Blown: I like, to one degree or another, all of our retirees; Marquetry was at the top of the list. After spending each day in his paddock, directly in front of the house so we could appreciate the view, Marquetry would greet Reymundo at the gate at 4 p.m. sharp. He'd prance up the driveway, walk through the barn door and into his stall, where fresh hay, feed, and carrots awaited him. If there were not enough carrots, he'd shoot us a look and neigh. He knew what he wanted and when he wanted it, but he was never rude. His majesty is difficult to capture in words.

Noor

Br., h., 1945-1974, by Nasrullah—Queen of Baghdad, by Bahram

EARNED: $356,940

MAJOR RACES WON: Hollywood Gold Cup, San Juan Capistrano, Santa Anita Handicap

MILESTONES: Racing Hall of Fame class of 2002; reinterred in Old Friends Hall of Fame cemetery in 2011

Charlotte Farmer, supporter, drove Noor's remains 2,300 miles from California to Old Friends: It was a long journey to bring Noor here to Old Friends, where he will be honored with other Hall of Fame horses. I like the distinction that he is the first in.

Gary Parke, son of trainer Burley Parke: It's a huge honor just being a part of this. I think this is kind of his legacy. He touched so many people in his early years and made a big impact on their lives. Who knew that many years later he would be doing the same thing?

HALL OF FAME

Ogygian

B., h., 1983-2015, by Damascus—Gonfalon, by Francis S.

EARNED: $455,520

MAJOR RACES WON: Futurity (G1), Dwyer (G1), Jerome (G1), Riva Ridge

MILESTONES: Broodmare sire of Cartier European champion 2-year-old colt Johannesburg; great-grandsire of the late leading North American sire Scat Daddy

Michael Blown: Ogygian was among the first Thoroughbreds we brought home from Japan when his breeding career was over. Thanks to him, we established a wonderful relationship with associations in Japan that has worked to our benefit. Ogygian paved the way for others to follow, including the 1997 Kentucky Derby winner Silver Charm.

Polish Navy

B., h., 1984-2011, by Danzig—Navsup, by Tatan

EARNED: $1,118,076

MAJOR RACES WON: Champagne (G1), Cowdin (G1), Woodward (G1)

MILESTONE: Sire of 1993 Kentucky Derby (G1) winner and millionaire Sea Hero

Beth Shannon, tour guide: Polish Navy was one of two one-eyed horses at Old Friends. I was lucky to be on the farm when a groom who'd taken care of Polish Navy visited him after some years apart. He went to the fence and began to sing to Polish: "Who's the one eye? Who's the one eye ..." Up came Polish Navy's head. He trotted to us fast, arriving just as his old buddy finished his song, "... Who's the one I love?"

Precisionist

Ch., h., 1981-2006, by Crozier—Excellently, by Forli

EARNED: $3,485,398

MAJOR RACES WON: Breeders' Cup Sprint (G1), Californian (G1), Charles H. Strub (G1), San Fernando (G1), Swaps (G1), Woodward (G1)

MILESTONES: Hall of Fame class of 2003; 1985 champion sprinter; track record, Hollywood Park, one mile in 1:32.80; track record, Del Mar, one mile in 1:33.20

Michael Blown: Due to the extraordinary generosity of Dr. Siobhan Ellison, who donated this great champion to Old Friends, we were honored to have Precisionist in our care and humbled by the trust Ellison put in us. We all wish he could have stayed a little longer. But in those brief four months, punctuated by frequent visits from his great jockey, Chris McCarron, Precisionist taught us a lot. Not just about how he liked his stall fluffed and where he liked his neck rubbed but about dignity and, of course, class.

Private Zone

B., g., 2009-2018, by Macho Uno—Auburn Beauty, by Siphon

EARNED: $2,924,620

MAJOR RACES WON: Cigar Mile (G1), Vosburgh (G1) twice, Forego (G1), Churchill Downs S. (G2)

Michael Blown: We were so grateful when Private Zone's owners retired him to us. He was a wonderful addition to Old Friends. He had the kind of personality that was easy to adore; a marvelous horse and a fighter to the end.

Prized

Dk. b. or br., 1986-2014, by Kris S.—My Turbulent Miss, by My Dad George

EARNED: $2,262,555

MAJOR RACES WON: Breeders' Cup Turf (G1), San Luis Rey (G1), Swaps (G2)

MILESTONES: Sire of millionaire Brass Hat and Auckland Cup (NZ-G1) winner Prize Lady; maternal grandsire of 2014 Kentucky Oaks (G1) winner and millionaire Untapable

Michael Blown: Prized still loved to race, whether it was against Little Silver Charm or You and I. But his favorite pal was Sunshine Forever. In the 1989 Breeders' Cup Turf, Prized was in the starting gate next to Sunshine Forever. At Old Friends, they were in adjoining paddocks. It doesn't get much better than that. One summer, we brought Prized up every afternoon from his paddock for a cool shower, extra carrots, and the adulation of his fans. He loved it.

Proper Reality

Dk. b. or br., h., 1985-2010, by In Reality—Proper Princess, by Nodouble

EARNED: $1,701,650

MAJOR RACES WON: Arkansas Derby (G1), Metropolitan (G1), Philip H. Iselin (G1)

Beth Shannon, tour guide: Proper Reality was in a front paddock and always was first to greet our visitors. He enjoyed the Old Friends tours and was very kind and gentle with everyone. After receiving his carrots from his visitors, he would dash to the middle of his paddock and rear up, pawing the air and snorting, giving his best impersonation of the “Black Stallion.”

Ruhlmann

Dk. b. or br., h., 1985-2008, by Mr. Leader—Indian Maiden, by Chieftain

EARNED: $1,824,154

MAJOR RACES WON: Mervyn LeRoy (G1), Santa Anita Handicap (G1)

Beth Shannon, tour guide: As a racehorse, Ruhlmann had searing speed, endurance, and indomitable competitive will. At Old Friends, his fierce looks made visitors step back. But when he poked out his head, tilting it with flattened ears as if to threaten, “Gimme a treat or else,” their alarm turned to warmth. They saw that behind his tough ways, Ruhlmann had bound us to him with deep ties. He returned affection for respect. He loved the scratch on his back or chest. Ruhlmann filled far more space than his small, nearly black body did, and his passing left a big emptiness.

Skip Away

Gr. or ro., h., 1993-2010, by Skip Trial—Ingot Way, by Diplomat Way

EARNED: $9,616,360

MAJOR RACES WON: Breeders’ Cup Classic (G1), Donn (G1), Gulfstream Park (G1), Jockey Club Gold Cup (G1) twice

MILESTONES: Racing Hall of Fame class of 2004, 1998 Horse of the Year, 1997 and 1998 champion older male, 1996 champion 3-year-old male; reinterred in Old Friends Hall of Fame cemetery in 2011

Michael Blown: Skip Away, Horse of the Year in 1998, also was named Eclipse champion 3-year-old male in 1996 and Eclipse champion older male in 1997 and 1998. He won a total of 10 Grade 1 races, including the Breeders’ Cup Classic by, at the time, the widest margin in the event’s history, and bankrolled $9.6 million in earnings, the fourth-highest total in history. His grave was relocated to Old Friends in 2011, when his former resting spot was deemed in jeopardy of development.

Sunshine Forever

B., h., 1985-2014, by Roberto—Outward Sunshine, by Graustark

EARNED: $2,084,800

MAJOR RACES WON: Breeders’ Cup Turf (G1), Budweiser International (G1), Man o’ War (G1), Turf Classic (G1)

MILESTONES: 1998 champion grass male; repatriated from Japan to Old Friends in 2004

Kate Dunn, supporter: Sunshine first allowed me in his presence on a day I will never forget. That day, Sunshine stood far back in his pasture and observed, dignified majesty winning over the long years’ wear on his body. I look at the picture I took of Sunshine at our first meeting, and then reflect upon the memory of Sunshine as I last saw him. Dignity continued to dominate. But what a difference his free life of fresh air and green grass made. His coat blossomed. His muscles stood strong for his 28 years. His regal eye surveyed his realm. To the end, Sunshine embodied the imposing beauty of the Thoroughbred.

Taylor’s Special

B., h., 1981-2006, by Hawkin’s Special—Bette’s Gold, by Espea

EARNED: $1,065,805

MAJOR RACE WON: Blue Grass (G1)

MILESTONE: Track record, Arlington Park, six furlongs in 1:08

Michael Blown: The reputation of Taylor’s Special rests on a staggering 21 wins from 41 starts over five years, with 13 stakes wins at nine different tracks. At 5, he crushed the six-furlong record at Arlington Park – a record that, unfortunately, outlasted him. But as great as he was on the track, he was even better as a retiree. At Old Friends, he loved posing for pictures and showing off for visitors, throwing his head back and arching his back, showing everyone that there was still something left in the old bay son of Hawkin’s Special. Everyone loved him.

HALL OF FAME

The Wicked North

Ch., h., 1989-2011, by Far North—Wicked Witchcraft, by Good Behaving

EARNED: $1,180,750

MAJOR RACES WON: Californian (G1), Oaklawn (G1)

MILESTONES: 1994 champion older male; track record, Hollywood Park, 1 1/8 miles in 1:46.60

Tim Ford, volunteer: I still remember the first time I saw him. He came off the truck, this big strapping chestnut with a striking blaze and white socks. I always said his sweet nature made him a tour favorite, and his picture filled many pages of scrapbooks. He had the heart of a Thoroughbred, the heart of champion, the heart of a true and faithful friend. There is not a day that goes by that I don't think about him and miss him. He will live on forever in the hearts of everyone who knew him.

Thunder Rumble

Dk. b. or br., h., 1989-2015, by Thunder Puddles—Lyphette, by Lyphard

EARNED: $1,047,552

MAJOR RACES WON: Travers (G1), Jim Dandy (G2)

JoAnn Pepper: He was the most magnificent stallion I have ever met, and I am so thankful to have known and loved him. He is buried here in his favorite place under his pines. Be free, my friend, until we meet again.

Tinners Way

Ch., h., 1990-2017, by Secretariat-Devon Diva, by The Minstrel

EARNED: $1,846,546

MAJOR RACES WON: Pacific Classic S. (G1) twice, Californian S. (G1)

Michael Blown: We were so saddened by the loss of Tinners Way. It's times like those that you really see how much we can do for these old horses. Tinner, like Wallenda, was a warrior to the end, and when he told us his battle was over, we listened. He had so many friends from all over the country that visited him often. He leaves behind a great legacy and a host of adoring fans.

Wallenda

Dk. b. or br., h, 1990-2016, by Gulch—So Glad, by Liloy

EARNED: $1,205,929

MAJOR RACES WON: Super Derby (G1), Pennsylvania Derby (G2), Cowdin (G2)

Michael Blown: Wallenda, despite some longtime health issues, was tough as nails. He exuded a strength of both muscle and character, two traits he inherited from his sire, Gulch. While there were friendlier, more personable retirees at Old Friends, there were none who gave visitors a greater understanding of a Thoroughbred's fiery constitution than Wallenda.

Williamstown

Dk. b. or br., h., 1990-2015, by Seattle Slew—Winter Sparkle, by Northjet

EARNED: $360,884

MAJOR RACE WON: Withers (G2)

Beth Shannon, tour guide: Williamstown's character was as standout as his looks. When a subdivision was built near the farm, of all the horses, it was Williamstown who kept an eagle eye on the construction workers, making sure they confined their hammering and roof walking to areas outside the bounds of Dream Chase Farm. Williamstown's conscientious vigilance made sure these strangely behaving, mountain-raising humans were not, like Dylan Thomas's owls, "bearing the farm away."

We've been going the distance for 180 years

As a partner to horse owners and the equine industry, we provide special equipment discounts for equine association members like you ... and a percentage of every purchase puts money back into the equine industry to help further the bond between people, horses, and the land.

To learn more about the benefits to the industry, and how members of qualifying equine associations can save on John Deere equipment, call us toll-free at 866-678-4289.

John Deere is a proud supporter of Old Friends.

JOHN DEERE

Official Equipment Supplier of NTRA

Some restrictions apply. This offer is available to qualified equine associations members in the U.S. and Canada and is subject to change without notice. Coupon savings offer not to be used with full-time equine discount program. John Deere's green and yellow color scheme, the leaping deer symbol and JOHN DEERE are trademarks of Deere & Company.
